TARIFF BILL GOES TO WILSON TONIGHT FOR HIS SIGNATURE

Long Fight of the Democrats to Lower Rates in Interest of the Consumer Is Practically Over.

COTTON FUTURES TAX DROPPED FROM MEASURE

Conference Report Adopted by Senate After Listless Debate — La Follette and Poindexter For Report.

Washington, October 2.—The democratic tariff revision bill will probably be in the hands of President Wilson for his signature by tomorrow night. The senate at the end of a listless debate, passed the conference report at 8:30 o'clock tonight by a vote of 36 to 17, only four more than the necessary quorum of the senate.

Senator La Follette, republican, and Poindexter, progressive, voted for the conference report, as they did for the bill on its passage, and Senators Ransdell and Thornton, democrats, voted against it, as they did against the bill. Otherwise it was a strict party vote.

Immediately after the passage of the conference report, acting on motions made by Chairman Simmons, of the finance committee, the senate rejected the Smith-Lever compromise cotton futures tax amendment passed by the house Tuesday and then receded from its own amendment known as the Clarke cotton futures tax plan. Both of these motions were carried without roll call and their effect is to leave the cotton futures question out of the tariff bill so far as the senate is concerned.

Back to House Today.

The bill will be returned to the house early tomorrow. At a conference of house leaders today, the question was taken up as to whether the bill might not go directly from the senate to the president. While many parliamentarians held that this course would be legal, Chairman Underwood and Speaker Clark decided that the house should take formal action tomorrow, to recede from its cotton futures tax amendment. Such action will eliminate the subject from the bill and the completed measure can go to President Wilson at once.

It was thought at the capitol tonight that the bill would become a law Saturday. Anticipating such a conclusion to the tariff revision fight, the treasury department was busy today making final preparations to put the new rates of duty into effect on all foreign merchandise on the day following the signature of the bill by the president. It is expected that millions of dollars worth of imported goods, now held in bond, will be withdrawn for distribution in this country within two or three days after the new tariff rates become effective.

Penrose Raises Angora Standard.

The eight and one-half hours of debate in the senate today produced but little real criticism of the tariff bill or the conference agreement. Chief interest centered in the speech of Senator Penrose, who raised the standard of the angora goat over the democratic party and moved the senate to continued bursts of laughter with his allusion to the new duty that had been put on angora wool. The principal criticisms of the conference committee, came from Senator Pomerene of Ohio, whose amendment imposing a tax of $1.10 a gallon on spirits used to fortify sweet wines had been dropped out by the conferees; and from Senator Borah whose amendment prohibiting the importation of goods made by child labor also had been eliminated.

Senator Pomerene said he acquiesced in the decision of the conferences because he knew the senate members had been compelled to drop the wine tax amendment. Senator Borah declared that the opposition to the child labor amendment had been fostered and stirred up by importers and aided by "sinister influences" in this country, that were opposed to restrictions against child labor.

"There is nothing so pathetic nothing so menacing to the citizenship of this republic," he added, "as the fact that these conditions of labor continue here in our country year after year and there seems no remedy for them."

Work of Conferees Approved.

Attempts to impeach the work of the conferees on points of order were overruled by Senator Clarke, president protempore. Senators Burton and Penrose declared the conference had had injected new matter into the tariff bill by changing rates that both houses had agreed to.

Senator Simmons, in presenting estimates of the revenues to be derived from the new tariff rates, declared the democrats were to be congratulated on the character of the tariff bill that finally had been brought out of the conference committee.

"This is the first tariff bill ever passed in this country," he said, "that was framed by the whole body of the party responsible for the legislation."

CORDELL HULL TO FILL MOUNTCASTLE'S PLACE

Nashville, Tenn., October 2.—At today's meeting of the democratic state committee, Cordell Hull, congressman from the fourth district, and author of the income tax provision in the tariff bill, was elected national committeeman, vice R. E. L. Mountcastle, of Knoxville, deceased. Hull received thirteen votes against seven for Porter Dunlap.

Children Killed by Train.

Roanoke, Va., October 2.—At Dublin, Va., early this morning, Edgar, D. Withrow, Jr., the 10-year-old son of E. D. Withrow, president of the Dublin bank and Madge Lowman, 15, an orphan, were run over by a Norfolk and Western freight train while attempting to pass over a road crossing in a buggy, both dying several hours later. The children were on their way to school when the accident accurred.

STATE TO OUTLAW ALL RAIL STRIKES

Gov. Foss Serves Notice on Mutinous New Haven Engineers—To Call Legislature to Prohibit Strike.

Boston, October 2.—Should a strike of engineers and firemen on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad be ordered, Governor Foss will ask a special session of the Massachusetts legislature to enact laws to prohibit all strikes of railway employees within the commonwealth.

Such is the declaration contained in a letter which the governor sent tonight to officers of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen at New Haven, Conn. The letter says that the governor has been informed that the members of the two brotherhoods are voting on the question of calling a strike. A strike, it adds, would be of grave concern to the people of Massachusetts, as it would mean the stoppage of the wheels of industry, loss of employment to hundreds of thousands of laborers, interference with the regular supply of food and fuel and a consequent high death rate among invalids and infants.

All the People Affected.

"I am informed that the principal question at issue between your organizations and the New Haven railroad," the governor continues, "is whether the promotion of employees and the assignment of duties shall be governed solely by the rule of seniority, or whether fitness as well as length of service shall be taken into consideration. Without looking at the matter from the standpoint either of the railroad or its employees, I desire to remind you that this question is one which vitally affects the people of Massachusetts, and, indeed, of all New England. Promotion and the assignment of duties according to seniority, without regard to fitness, lower the efficiency of the labor force, make it impossible for the railroad to maintain discipline and impair the ability of the railroad to serve the public.

"The real issue is not between the railroad and its employees, but between the employees and the people of this commonwealth; and the question is whether the lives of the people shall be placed in jeopardy by the maintenance of the seniority rule, and whether, in order to enforce this rule, our people must submit to the evils incident to a railroad strike. . . .

To Protect the People.

"If this strike is declared it will become my duty to take such measures as are within my power to protect the people of this commonwealth. To that end, if the strike is called, I shall ask the council to join me in summoning a special session of the legislature for the purpose of enacting laws which, after providing effective remedies for all grievances of employees, shall absolutely prohibit strikes of railroad operatives employed within the commonwealth. For such action the laws of other countries supply useful precedents and public sentiment in this commonwealth will surely demand the enactment of similar legislation."

To Count Strike Ballots.

New Haven, Conn., October 2.—Officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers said tonight that they had not yet received Governor Foss' letter and therefore declined to discuss it. Assistant Grand Chief L. L. Griffing arrived here late tonight and tomorrow will count the strike ballots that have been taken on the New Haven system during the past few days. It was said unofficially that the men will vote to strike by an overwhelming majority.

"This means," said Chairman F. S. Evans, "that the men favor striking if their contentions cannot be gained in any other way."

ALL STREET GAMES BARRED TO CHILDREN BY HIGHWAY SOCIETY

New York, October 2.—The National Highways Protective society today placed its ban on roller skating, "one old cat," "pushmobiles" and other juvenile street amusements. The society's September report shows an unusually large number of children killed or injured in street accidents.

Edward S. Cornell, secretary of the organization, said school teachers should warn their pupils of the ever increasing danger of playing on the streets and highways and that clergymen should urge parents to forbid their children to use the streets for playgrounds.

Since the first of the year 193 children have been killed on the streets of New York by wheel traffic.

BURIED FOR WEEK MINER IS CALLING FOR BEEF DINNER

Thomas Toshesky Entombed Since Last Friday, Is Very Much Alive and Wants a Substantial Meal.

EGGNOG THOUGH TUBE KEEPS HIM CHEERFUL

Rescuers Expect to Reach the Buried Man About Noon Today — Toshesky Weakened by His Interment.

Centralia, Pa., October 2.—Separated from freedom by 15 feet of hard, solid coal, Thomas Toshesky, the miner who has been entombed in the Continental colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal company since last Friday morning, must spent at least eighteen nours more in his dismal cell 100 feet below the surface. He was so informed tonight by rescuers who are working desperately to penetrate the wall of coal surrounding him.

Meanwhile his wife and children remain at their home hoping that something unforeseen by the rescue party will aid in liberating the husband and father in time for him to join the family circle at breakfast tomorrow.

Entombed Man Relieved.

Notwithstanding that a powerful aircompressor capable of doing the work of six men was installed in the heading today, mine officials directing the work declared tonight that it would be impossible to break the coal barrier until noon tomorrow, "and perhaps not then."

When Toshesky was told the compressor was in action he said he felt much relieved, as he knew it would have taken days to release him with only one man at a time—all that could stand in the narrow passageway—digging into the hardest kind of coal.

Following the instructions of P. J. Heffner, superintendent of the mine, to refrain from exerting himself too much by picking away at the coal in the direction of his rescuers, the imprisoned miner did little work today. He conversed with his rescuers several times through the 50-foot pipe that has been inserted from an adjoining chamber and through which his food is sent to him.

He Wants a Beef Dinner.

Toshesky told the physician who directs his diet tonight that he was becoming somewhat weakened because he has had no solid food for nearly a week and said that he was very anxious to "sit down to a good substantial beef dinner." He said that he had slept some during the day and felt as well as could be expected under the circumstances, but as the time drew nearer for him to be liberated he grow more and more restless. He frequently asks the time and passes much of the time singing and praying that none of the rescuers will meet with an accident in attempts to free him.

Gave Him Bottle of Eggnog.

The imprisoned miner begged for a stick of dynamite to blow down portions of the barrier between himself and liberty. To quiet him another bottle of eggnog was sent in to him, along with instructions from Mr. Hoffner to try to go to sleep.

Toshesky was more cheerful after the fifteen minutes' talk he had through the pipe with his wife.

ANKLE POCKETBOOK STUNS PEDESTRIANS AT PEACHTREE SHOW

To begin with, this story is a fact, but whether or not its heroine is a bona-fide citizen is entirely another matter. Anyway, she showed a few pedestrians along Peachtree street a thing or two in ultra-modern style yesterday afternoon.

She was blonde and a little under thirty. Her dress was blue velvet that turned all kind of funny colors in the sunlight, and she wore one of those kind of hats that needs a steeplejack when it comes to trimming.

Her stockings? Well, that's another story, and, to tell the truth, the plot around which this one hinges.

The hose were blue silk and peeped candidly from the slash which occasionally flapped open in the breeze. She walked rapidly, with that python-like movement of the fashionable woman, and made her way to a moving picture show.

Now, this stocking is the latest thing in fashion. Just about an inch below the knee—maybe less—is a pocketbook stitched into the cloth. In this modern day of snatch thieves and pickpockets, it is considered—by up-to-date modists, of course—to be the safest place for a woman to carry her money.

This particular heroine carried a handbag of silver, or some kind of metal that sparkled in the sunlight. She walked to the ticket window of the movie house and asked for a single ticket. Then she opened her handbag. There was no money in it.

A crowd was behind her, but she didn't seem to mind. A flash, and a ring-populated hand shot to the ankle. A swish of silk, a dazzling dash of blue and purple, and a general stampede of men. She was reaching into the pocketbook beneath the knee for the money she failed to find in her handbag.

It took but a moment. She hurried into the show.

But the policeman on the beat found it different.

It took exactly forty-five minutes to move the crowd. And, even at that, a few lingered.

"Pennsy" Train Wrecked.

Titusville, Pa., October 2.—Westbound train No. 41, on the Philadelphia and Erie division of the Pennsylvania railroad, was derailed tonight at Garland, Pa., seriously injuring two express messengers and bruising a number of passengers. The train was ditched in the railroad yards at Garland. A broken rail, it is said, was responsible.

Sixteen-Story Office Building Will Soon Be Erected by E. L. Connally on Whitehall

THE PROPOSED CONNALLY BUILDING

Which is to contain sixteen stories, and will be one of the handsomest office buildings in the south. Dr. E. L. Connally is now considering its erection at the famous Brown & Allen corner.

Plans for the proposed E. L. Connally building, on the corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets, reached the Atlanta office of W. L. Stoddart, the well-known New York architect, yesterday, and the first picture of what will be one of the handsomest structures in the city is presented by The Constitution today.

The building, as designed, will be a magnificent, pure white edifice, towering sixteen stories above the ground. It will cost in the neighborhood of $600,000 and will be the last word in perfection in the way of an office building.

The structure will contain approximately 350 offices, with four stores on Whitehall street and five on Alabama street, with a basement and a subbasement, making the building eighteen stories high in all. The frontage on Whitehall will be 84 feet, with a depth of 101 feet on Alabama. The building will thus be nearly square, and will have the appearance of a tall white shaft rising out of the very heart of the city's retail center.

The material used in the outside construction of the building will be snow white terra cotta with polychrome trimmings for the upper stories, while the first three stories will be constructed of massive granite, elaborately carved. The elevators prepared by Mr. Stoddart call for a structure of unusual beauty, which will tower majestically over the lower buildings by which it will be surrounded.

The interior finish of the building, wainscoting, floors, etc., will be of the handsomest white marble throughout, the decorative effects on the first and second floors to be unusually elaborate. The rooms are planned to be unusually roomy and will be adapted to any purpose, being designed singly and en suite, with small ante rooms. All rooms will be outside rooms.

While Dr. Connally declared Thursday that he had not absolutely decided upon the erection of the building, it is safe to say that its construction will begin within a few days after September 30, 1914, on which date every tenant of the buildings now occupying the well known Brown & Allen corner, will vacate, notice having already been given by Dr. Connally.

ATLANTA TO WIN ROADS CONGRESS

The Meeting Next Year to Be Held in Georgia's Capital — Delegates Concede Victory to Atlanta.

Detroit, Mich., October 2.—It was generally conceded tonight that the 1914 good roads congress will be held at Atlanta, Ga. The Canadian delegation headed by A. W. Campbell, deputy minister of railways and canals, of Canada, will endeavor to secure the 1915 meeting for either Toronto or Ottawa.

The American Highway association met tonight to take up the annual election of officers and directors.

Logan Waller Page, of Washington, was re-elected president, and J. E. Pennybacker, of Washington, was again chosen as secretary. Other officers elected were:

Field Secretary—Charles P. Light, Wheeling, W. Va.

Treasurer—Lee McClung, Washington.

Vice President—W. W. Finley, president of the Southern railway.

Directors—Alfred Noble, A. B. Fletcher, Joseph W. Jones, and Charles W. Baker, all of New York; James S. Harlan, of the Interstate Commerce commission; Roy D. Chapin, Detroit; L. E. Johnson, president of the Norfolk and Western railroad, and Thomas G. Morris, Arizona.

Canada will be represented with the United States in an endeavor to obtain uniform laws pertaining to road building, if the proposition meets the approval of Premier Borden, according to an announcement made at the American Roads Congress here today by A. W. Campbell, deputy minister of railways and canals for the Canadian government.

Mr. Campbell said he would use his influence in urging the premier to consent to the appointment of a committee to confer with a committee representing the American Highway association and the American Bar association to evolve a plan for uniform road laws. "I realize that in Canada as well as throughout the United States, we have forty varieties of road laws for every province," said Mr. Campbell. "This tends to retard real road work and I heartily indorse any plan that would bring about practically the same legislation for both the United States and Canada, relative to good roads."

The good roads delegates today listened to papers by John N. Carlisle, chairman of the New York commission on highways; J. M. Lowe, of Missouri, president of the National Old Trails association, and M. P. Hull, of Michigan, a prominent member of the national grange.

BABY WHIPPOORWILL SCARED BY "SHOOS" OF CONGRESSMEN

Washington, October 2.—It took most of the officials and pages an hour today to "shoo" out of the solemn chamber of the house of representatives a young whippoorwill, which got in past the doorkeepers and couldn't find its way out. After many expedients had been tried, a page opened a skylight and the whippoorwill flew out.

DETERMINED TO REOPEN COLQUITT CARTER CASE

Georgia Representatives File Brief With McReynolds and Asks Removal of Harris.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, October 3.—(Special.)—Determined to bring about a reopening of the Colquitt Carter case, with the view of correcting what they believe an injustice to the former clerk of the United States court at Atlanta, Representatives Howard, Lee and Crisp today called on the attorney general and filed a brief reviewing all the facts. Moreover, they presented a petition signed by the two senators and every member of the state delegation in the house asking for the removal of Harris, the special agent, who made the report on the case.

It will be recalled that Mr. Harris was charged at the time with having engaged in a conspiracy with O. C. Fuller by which Mr. Fuller was to be named clerk after Mr. Carter was removed. In return, Fuller was to aid Harris to get a promotion in the department.

The petition filed today with the attorney general charges that Harris is not a fit man for the service, and that his report was not founded on facts, but was "unjust, untrue and maliciously false."

The filing of this brief and signed statement followed a recent conference with Mr. McReynolds, the attorney general.

ATLANTA TO SEEK W. C. T. U. MEETING

Members Throughout State to Aid in Bringing 11,000 National Delegates Here Next Year.

If plans now being formulated by the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union organizations materialize, Atlanta will secure the largest women's convention in America for the year 1914, the National Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. A joint meeting of the four W. C. T. U. organizations of Fulton county was held Thursday afternoon in Trinity Methodist church, at which the tentative plans for the bringing of the gathering to Atlanta were adopted.

The clubs represented at Thursday's meeting were the College Park, the Piedmont, the Patterson and the Atlanta Frances Willard W. C. T. U., with Mrs. Mary McLendon, president of the latter organization, presiding.

In addition to the officers and several representatives from each of the above named clubs, Dr. Carolyn Geisel, associate superintendent of the health and home economics department of the national W. C. T. U., was present, and delivered an interesting address on the work of the national organization.

Dr. Geiser is a medical woman, with a national reputation, and is on the staff of the Battle Creek sanitarium, and in addition holds the chair of health and home economics at Shorter college, of Rome, Ga., the first institution in the world to be endowed for such instruction.

Mrs. Patterson Aiding.

Mrs. T. E. Patterson, of Griffin, wife of Prison Commissioner Patterson, and president of the Georgia State Woman's Christian Temperance union, was also present and delivered an address, in which she promised Atlanta the support of the state organization in securing the gathering. Mrs. Patterson returned to Griffin last night, but will come to Atlanta next Monday to aid the local clubs in their fund-raising campaign.

Mrs. McLendon declared that all that was necessary to the success of the movement was the support of the business men of Atlanta, and stated that she felt assured of their hearty cooperation. The meeting was an open

RIVALLED EXPLOITS OF M'NAMARA BOYS IN USING DYNAMITE

George E. Davis Confesses He Was Employed by Union to Wage Campaign of Destruction in the East.

DAVIS WAS SELECTED TO KILL WALTER DREW

He Was to Be Paid $5,000 for Murder—Secretary-Treasurer Jones of Iron Workers' Union Also Under Arrest.

New York, October 2.—Dynamite outrages that rivalled the exploits of the McNamara brothers and Ortie McManigal were confessed today by George E. Davis, a union iron worker. Davis, who was arrested here today, was the George O'Donnell, who figured in the trial at Indianapolis that resulted in the conviction of Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers and 37 of his associates. His arrest and its consequences round up the work the federal government started more than two years ago when the dynamiting of bridges and steel frame buildings all over the country became a national scandal.

All the explosions that Davis says he caused were touched on and testified to at the dynamiters' trial in Indianapolis, but the fact that Davis caused them remained unrevealed until he himself told of it today.

Davis' confession resulted today in the arrest in Indianapolis of Harry Jones, secretary-treasurer of the Iron Workers' union. His confession supplements the evidence presented at the Indianapolis trial and makes fresh charges against some of the men there convicted and now in prison. Some of his revelations concerns President Ryan, who is now out on bail pending appeal from the prison sentence of seven years.

Chosen to Kill Drew.

Davis says he was the man chosen to kill Walter Drew, attorney for the National Erectors' association in December, 1911, after Drew was charged with kidnapping John J. McNamara. It was suggested also that he try to "get" William J Burns, the detective employed by Drew and his associates to unearth the dynamite conspiracy. The price on Drew's head at that time, Davis said, was $5,000. "I told them," his confession continues, "that I didn't want to mix up in such business."

Davis consented to return to Indianapolis without extradition. His bail was fixed at $10,000.

The conspiracy throught to have been broken up by the conviction of Ryan and others still exists, according to Davis' confession. With the exception of Harry Jones, the man he mentions in connection with his various dynamite jobs, already has been arrested although his confession indicated that the government had not obtained all the incriminating evidence against these defendants when they were tried at Indianapolis.

The apprehension of this McManigal of the east was due to Robert Foster, a Louisville detective, who shadowed the iron worker through eastern cities. Finally, several weeks ago, when Davis was displeased with his treatment by the union, Foster persuaded him to make a full confession.

This was on September 16. For a week Davis had been working in Pittsburgh for the Thompson Starrett company. Then the local delegate of the Iron Workers' union told him he must pay a $26 initation fee to the local union or quit work. Davis quit.

Felt Union Had Deserted Him.

The detective told him he knew all about his deeds anyway, and Davis, feeling that the union had deserted him, accompanied Foster to New York. Here in the presence of Representatives of the federal district attorney and the National Erectors' association he dictated and swore to the long detailed confession which was given out by the district attorney's office today.

Davis said he had been an iron worker since 1900, and had been employed at Birmingham, Denver, Pueblo, St. Louis, New York, Washington, Providence, Cleveland and Pittsburg.

C. F. von HERRMANN, Section Director.

In the early days of the trouble between the union and the bridge builders he was a member of the entertainment committee, whose duty he said, was to assault non-union workers. He began his career as a dynamiter at Trenton, N. J.

In careful detail the confession describes how Davis blew up or tried to blow up buildings and bridges in various cities and towns of the east.

It was during his preparation of plans to destroy a new building at Fall River, April 26, 1908, that Davis first came into communication with Harry Jones. He says he got Jones at Indianapolis on the telephone and asked him for money. Jones, he adds, sent $50. Davis asserts that Jones was familiar with the work he was doing.

Under the name O'Donnell, Davis was arrested for the Fall River job and served two years in prison. During his prison term, he says, his friends "made a couple of noises," in other parts of New England to convince the authorities that Davis or O'Donnell was not the only person doing dynamite work.

He Was Sent to the East.

After he left prison, officers of the union gave him money and he went to his home in Coffeyville, Kans. John J. McNamara wanted him to take up his old trade in Oklahoma, but he refused because it was too near home.

The arrest of the McNamaras followed soon, and, on advice of President Ryan, says Davis, he returned to the coast. One of his latest exploits was dynamiting a bridge at Mount Vernon under the direction of Frank C. Webb, a New York member of the executive committee of the union, who is now serving six years in prison.

A feature of Davis' statement was a story of a gigantic scheme to set off simultaneously explosions in Omaha, San Francisco, St. Louis and New York city, while the McNamaras were in jail. This was to create the impression that the McNamara brothers were by no means responsible for all the dynamiting in the country. The consummation of the plot was nipped by the confessions of the McNamaras.

Davis left for Indianapolis over the Pennsylvania railroad at 6:20 o'clock this evening in charge of Deputy United States Marshal Joseph Kund.

Jones Released on $10,000 Bond.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 2.—Harry Jones, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, who was arrested here today by Deputy United States Marshall Merrill Wilson, on a charge of conspiring to transport explosives unlawfully, was released on $10,000 bond late this afternoon. His hearing was set for October 13 before United States Commissioner Howard S. Young. He declined to make a statement.

The arrest is the result of a confession made by George E. Davis, alias George O'Donnell, who was arrested in New York today. In the confession Jones is charged with aiding Davis in his dynamiting work in the east.

The charge against Jones is the same as the charges on which thirty-eight of his fellow unionists were convicted in the federal court here last December and sentenced to the federal prison at Leavenworth for terms ranging from one to seven years.

With the exception of H. S. Hockin, who succeeded John J. McNamara as international secretary-treasurer, when the latter was sentenced to San Quentin prison for his part in the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building, all of the men sentenced from here have appealed their cases to the United States circuit court of appeals at Chicago.

The appeals are set to come up this month, and today's developments are considered of great importance at the United States district attorney's office, in that many missing links are supplied by Davis' confession.

No statement of any kind could be obtained from the international headquarters of the union here. A stenographer stated that Jones was the only official about the office. She said the other officers, including President Frank M. Ryan, were traveling.

Jones is a new man in the dynamite case. He was financial secretary of New York local No. 40, and was elected international secretary-treasurer at the convention held here last January. He is a brother-in-law of Frank C. Webb, of New York, a former member of the union's executive board, and one of the thirty-eight men convicted here last December.

MISS OCTOBER MORN DRAPED IN APRON BY MAYOR OF ROME

Rome, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) A scantily draped statuette was today removed from public view at the protest of the Rome Woman's Christian Temperance union leaders. This is the second time that the ladies have raised objection to the bit of sculpture. It originally adorned the front of a motion picture theater on Broad street, and was taken down when the ladies threatened to boycott the house unless the offending work of art was removed. J. B. Love, an employe of the theater, took the statuette to his room, but Love left town with unpaid bills behind and his goods were sold yesterday under a constable's levy.

At the sale Mayor Ben C. Yancey, a stockholder in the theater, identified the work of the sculptor as his possession, and it was not sold but was allowed to remain on the court-house lawn all day. It was promptly dubbed "October Morn" by the irreverent and was the center of attention during the day. Learning of this the ladies petitioned Sheriff Dunehoo for its removal and he told the mayor to come get it. It is said that the mayor has draped the statue in an apron and placed it in storage in a dark cellar.

UNCLE SAM'S MARSHALS TO NAME THEIR DEPUTIES

Proposed to Take All Deputy Marshals and Collectors Out of the Civil Service.

Washington, October 2.—A new provision that would take practically all deputy United States marshals and deputy collectors of internal revenue out of the protection of the civil service has been added to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill by the senate committee on appropriations which reported the measure back to the senate today. It provides that collectors of internal revenue and United States marshals shall have power to appoint any deputy who is compelled to furnish a bond and "shall have power to revoke the appointment of any subordinate officer or employee and appoint his successor at his discretion without regard," to the civil service laws or regulations.

An appropriation of $7,000 for the purchase of a new automobile for Vice-President Marshall and its care and operation for one year was added to the bill by the senate committee.

Terms of office of the five circuit judges now serving on the United States commerce court which would have ended at once under the provision recently passed by the house have been extended to December 31, by the committee.

In a report on the urgent appropriation bill made to the senate today the committee endorsed the provision abolishing the commerce court and legislating its five judges out of office, but gave them time to prepare for their retirement.

The committee added to the bill $20,000 for the payment of assistants to the attorney general and district attorneys in special government cases; $8,540 for a deficiency in the fund for enforcement of anti-trust laws and increase the salary of the assistant to the attorney general from $7,000 to $9,600.

An appropriation of $10,000 for the federal board of mediation and conciliation was added to the bill.

Senator Overman, chairman of the subcommittee that drafted the provision affecting deputy marshals and collectors, said it would be limited in its option to those officers required to give bond to their sperior officers.

"The attorney general has differentiated between these men and all other civil service employes," he said, "because their terms expire with those of hi sduties, should have the power to required to give bond not to the government, but to their superiors. The collector of internal revenue or marshal, who has to give bond to the government for the faithful performance of his duties should have the power to select his deputies from men he knows and trusts and should have the power to remove them, when he deems its best. It became known during the day, that President Wilson approved the committee's action and did not regard it as a blow at civil service. The change, it was officially asserted had been made upon the recommendation of the civil service commission.

HE'D BAR COLOR LINE AND STOP RACE TROUBLE

Sir Sydney Oliver, Ex-Governor of Jamaica, Discusses Race Problem in South.

Southampton, England, October 2.—Racial problems replaced the sex question in the discussions of the Church of England congress today.

Sir Sydney Oliver, who was governor of Jamacia from 1907 to the end of 1912, put forward the remarkable claim that no solution of the American color question was possible except by a resolute disclaimer of the color line and the race differentiation theory. He expressed the opinion that negrophobia was in mixed communities one of the most active sources of danger.

"My study and comparison of conditions in the United States and the West Indies," he said, "has brought me to that conclusion. American and colonial politicians and public men are not Exeter Hall abolitionists nor Evangelical Christian missionaries.

Race Differentiation Opposed.

"I do not expect them to adopt the methods of missionaries, nor do I sympathize with all their political programs. But it cannot be ignored that it happened that the faiths of the men who laid the foundations for the peaceful development of the mixed community in Jamacia were democratic and humanitarian and above all uncompromisingly Christian.

"Were race differentiation held to, it must increase civil discord. When the balance of numbers is as it is in the south in America, it must tend to foster obscure preparations for civil war and rebellion. If statesmen and citizens face in the contrary direction, I do not say that they will attain immediate civil peace, but I am confident they will be traveling the only road toward it.

"I don't suggest that race does not greatly affect facilities for combination between humans in healthy national life, but race difference is only one of many schismatic agencies. The solution of the difficulty involves discipline for the white men as wel las the black."

No Independence for Backward Races.

The Earl of Selborne, former governors of the Transvaal and high commissioner to South Africa, who has had plenty of opportunity of studying the color question told the congress that backward races could not exist permanantly in independence side by side by a civilized race.

"There must," he said, "be effective control, full and complete, and exercised in the light of day, by the civilized race. If any of these conditions should be absent there would be a state of anarchy, resulting in the demoralization and decay of the native race.

"Natives who are found unfit for the vote ought to be provided with some constitutional means for expressing their grievance and wants."

Allen Defeats deOro.

New York, October 2.—Benny Allen, of Kansas City, tonight repeated his performance of last night, winning the second block from Alfred deOro, the world's champion, in a match for the pocket billiard title, by a score of 200 to 164. The total for two nights' play now stands, Allen 400, deOro 312. The high runs were, Allen 20 and 34, deOro 34 and 41. The final game of the series will be played tomorrow night.

Crop News by Telegraph.

Washington, October 2.—The department of agriculture's experiment in supplying state crop news by telegraph through the weather bureau stations in the newspapers of certain suits will be extended to Florida this month. When the next crop report is prepared the department of agriculture will telegraph the facts to the central weather stations in Florida, and these stations will duplicate the dispatch and mail it at once to all papers in the state.

ATLANTA TO SEEK W. C. T. U. MEETING

one, and anyone who could suggest a plan for the furtherance of the movement was requested to speak.

Mrs. McLendon was followed by Dr. Geisel, who, after describing, in an interesting manner, the methods employed by the national organization in fighting the liquor traffic, spoke of the proposed bringing of the 1914 convention to Atlanta, as follows:

"Largest Gathering of Women."

"It is merely a matter of getting a sufficient fund subscribed by the business men of Atlanta to insure proper accommodations and entertainment for the delegates. The national Women's Christian Temperance union convention is the largest gathering of women in the United States. In the conventions of the last three years more than 11,000 delegates, representing every state in the union, have been present, and I see no reason why the convention should not have as large, if not larger, attendance if held in this city.

"It would be well to get things started at once, and send a large delegation to the next national convention, which will be held in Asbury Park, N. J., during the month of November. It will take about $5,000 to insure the financial success of the fight, and I am sure that the business men of Atlanta will not deny our appeal."

Mrs. McLendon and Mrs. Patterson also spoke enthusiastically of the project, the former stating that the movement already has the indorsement of the business bodies of Atlanta. The support of the Atlanta Convention bureau, through Chairman Fred Houser, has been promised, as has the hearty co-operation of all industrial bodies of the city.

New Orleans Seeks Meet.

New Orleans and Indianapolis will be the strongest contestants against Atlanta in the Asbury Park convention in November, which will be the 1913 national gathering. It is said that Indianapolis will make a great fight to secure the 1914 delegates, while New Orleans is equally determined that if the convention meets in the south that the Crescent City shall have it.

A committee composed of Mrs. McLendon, Dr. Geisel, Mrs. Patterson and several other prominent W. C. T. U. workers will confer with the Evangelical Ministers' association at their meeting next Monday morning, following which a definite plan will be mapped out for the work of securing the convention, and active work will be started at once to secure the necessary $5,000.

FOR U. S. OWNERSHIP OF ALL WIRE SYSTEMS

Washington October 2.—Government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines is to be proposed in bills Representative David J. Lewis, of Maryland, is drafting now for introduction in the house within a month.

Though the measures, which would have these public utilities taken over as a part of postal service, have not been made an administration policy, the president is known to have discussed the idea with Representative Lewis and others interested in the project. Mr. Lewis has collected a mass of data on the subject of telephone and telegraph operation and has prepared estimates as to their cost to the government, their availability as a source of revenue and cost of maintenance and also has worked out a plan for their acquirement and operation as government public utilities.

Besides laying his plans before president Wilson Representative Lewis has consulted frequently concerning them with Postmaster General Burleson.

When the Maryland congressman reviewed his plans with the president, the latter, it is reported evinced considerable interest, but it is known that consideration of the matter has not advanced sufficiently for the project to be designated as an administration plan. Representative Lewis, however, proposes to press the projected legislation vigorously and already he has procured the indorsement of the proposal by many members of congress.

TO THE WRONG LINCOLN IMMIGRANT IS TAKEN

Lincoln, Neb., October 2.—After traveling from New York to this city, Statan Colseink, a Russian immigrant, learned today that his steerage ticket was marked Lincoln, N. M. An error in the marking of his transfer ticket had sent him half way across the continent. The police, through an interpreter, learned of his plight. An effort is being made to get the steamship company to pay his expenses back to New Hampshire.

Reforms for Seamen.

Washington, October 2.—The so-called bills to abolish involuntary servitude and improve working conditions on merchant vessels, which President Taft refused to sign last March, was again indorsed today by the senate committee on commerce, and will be recommended for passage. The bill was reintroduced without change from the form in which it was passed in the last congress.

Russia Accepts Pindell.

Washington, October 2.—The Russian government, in reply to an inquiry from the state department, has signified that Henry H. Pindell, a Peoria, Ill., editor, will be acceptable as American ambassador to Russia. It is expected Mr. Pindell's nomination will be sent to the senate immediately.

Wilson to Visit Mobile.

Washington, October 2.—President Wilson has decided to attend the Southern Commerciad congress at Mobila, Ala., October 27, unless unexpected developments prevent. Plans are being made for him to leave here the evening of October 25, returning here the 29th.

ADJOURNMENT TAKEN IN THE SULZER CASE

Attorneys of Governor Given Uutil Monday to Prepare Plans for Opening.

Albany, N. Y., October 2.—Only a brief session of the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer was held today and then an adojournment until Monday afternoon was granted by Presiding Judge Cullen. This was done in order that the attorneys for the governor might have time to perfect their plans for opening the case.

Of the plans of the defense little is known except that Senator Harvey D. Hinmon will outline the defense if he is able and that Louis A. Sarecky, formerly the governor's campaign secretary, will be the first witness for the impeached executive. That the governor will testify there is no doubt despite the fact that some members of his counsel opposed his taking the stand. A long conference was held between the governor and his attorneys tonight at the "people's house." Efforts by the governor's attorneys today to have certain testimony stricken from the record brought the statement from the court that this motion would have to be renewed when all the evidence was in.

"I shall hold," Judge Cullen said, "that all motions involving the probative force of competent evidence must be left until the final submission of the case."

This ruling resulted in Austen G. Fox, one of Mr. Sulzer's attorney, not making a motion to strike out articles three, four, five, seven and eight as he had planned. The motion will be made later, however. These articles deal with all of the governor's alleged impeachable acts except those investigating financial transactions. A motion to strike out the "money articles" already is before the court. It, too, will be decided when all the testimony is in.

IN WILD WEST STYLE NEGROES EMPTY MOVIE

Trying to emulate the wild and wooly westerners he saw on the screen in the Dixie moving picture theater on Decatur street, Moyer King, a 17-year-old negro last night started to create a rough house with his friend, who, he said, was Willie Barton, aged 16.

Charley Thomas, an usher, came to quiet them, and according to the story told, Moyer reached into his hip and got a revolver, not less than 7 inches long, and his chum got a similar gun and poked it in the usher's face. Thomas grabbed both by the collar and started to hustle them out.

Moyer, it is said, began firing first, and had emptied his pistol, when Willie began shooting. Thomas took heels toward the entrance. So did the audience.

The two boys darted through the exit and down Decatur street. Policeman L. B. Milam, who had been attracted from headquarters at sounds of the shots, started in pursuit. He cornered the Moyer boy in an alley just off Decatur street. The negro tried to threaten Milan with the pistol with which he had stampeded the theater. A sound slap in the face put him in condition for removal to headquarters, where he was docketed with the charge of carrying a concealed weapon. The other boy has not been caught.

GIRL CHASES THIEF AND CAPTURES HIM

Indianapolis, Ind., October 2.—Miss Helen Shepard, a young society woman, yesterday gave chase when a man snatched her handbag, and after a race of nearly a mile, captured Ernest Quimby, who she charges with being the thief. Persons who witnessed the robbery identified the man. Quimby once escaped from Miss Shepard, but in the next block she met him again, gave chase, catching him after a run of two blocks. She held him until police arrived.

CANAL NOT INJURED BY THE EARTHQUAKE

Absolutely no Damage to Structures of Waterway. Goethals Has Had Reports From Every Point.

Panama, October 2.—"Absolutely no damage was done by last night's earthquake to any part of the canal."

This signed statement was issued this evening by Colonel George W. Goethals, chairman and chief engineer, Isthmian canal commission.

The canal officials are greatly pleased tonight over the fact that within the space of one week the Gatun locks have been called upon to respond to two supreme tests, and in each case proved equal to the demand.

On Friday last it was demonstrated beyond question that the lock operating mechanicism works perfectly and that vessels can be locked through at will.

Test Came Opportunely.

While the earthquake test was not figured on, still, in one sense of the word, the event came opportunely, inasmuch as it has showed to the world that it will take more than the ordinary earthquake to cause irreparable damage to the lock structures and dams.

Lieutenant Colonel Sibert went over the greater part of the Gatun locks in person today and satisfied himself that there had been no damage. Colonel Goethals was early assured that the canal works had suffered no injury and before noon on the isthmus practically everyone knew the fact.

The president of Panama, Dr. Belisario Porras, personaly inspected the canal works this afternoon and learned with great relief that the 'quake had left the canal unharmed.

Disturbance Purely Local.

Reports received up to late tonight from different parts of the isthmus indicate that the disturbance was purely of a local character with the greatest intensity in Los Santos province, 120 miles from this city. A late dispatch from the city of Los Santos estimates the damage there at $25,000 and in the entire province at $100,000. Twenty-six tremors were counted in Los Santos city. No lives are reported lost, with the exception of one death from fright.

The history of earthquakes in Panama during the last 200 years shows that disturbances in the neighboring republic of Costa Rica are rarely perceptible in this part of the isthmus and that a shock in this locality does not usually extend to Costa Rica. Furthermore, the movement generally reaches its maximum intensity in the province of Los Santos.

No Serious Danger in Shocks.

Canal experts have always pinned great faith to the fact that no quake had ever occurred strong enough to shake down the famous flat arch which has stood in Panama for 175 years. The consulting board of engineers appointed in 1909 to go over the lock plans cited this fact, and one of the conclusions of the board was:

"We do not regard such shocks as a source of serious danger to any type of canal on the isthmus."

While a number of seismic disturbances have been recorded here since the American occupation, the earthquake of last night was the most serious of all. In September, 1904, a severe shock destroyed several buildings in the western part of the republic. Other movements were recorded in 1909, 1910 and 1912. None of these caused uneasiness. The city is quiet tonight and the general feeling is that all danger has passed. Few sought their beds after being driven from their homes through fear last night and the great majority remained in the public parks and open places until morning.

NABBED BY UNCLE SAM ON LEAVING CHAINGANG

Rome, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—When Harry Osborne and Richard McGovern stepped from the chaingang this morning, after serving a two-year term for burglary, they were free men for only ten minutes. They were immediately arrested by federal officers on the charge of burglarizing a postoffice. The two men were convicted of robbing the store of J. B. Porter & Son at Silver Creek, and were sentenced to two years. The postoffice is in the store and it is alleged that they took stamps and money from the postoffice safe. They were unable to make bond on the new charge and are in jail awaiting trial before the November term of federal court.

BLOODY DUEL FOUGHT IN DARK WITH KNIVES

Rome, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) As the result of a duel with knives in the dark late last night Danders Elrod, a young cotton-mill operative, is seriously wounded about the head and face. His opponent, Andrew Williams, escaped and is a fugitive from the warrant that has been issued for him, though he too is wounded. The men quarreled about their work, and finally stabbed each other in the resulting row.

CONVICT HANGS SELF AFTER HARD FLOGGING

Two Others Make Escape From Walton County Camp After Killing Bloodhound.

Lawrenceville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Ad Dickens, a white life termer, hanged himself in the tent at the camp near Shiloh church, about three miles from Loganville.

Dickens had made his escape from the gang the week previous and when recaptured had been given a severe flogging. He was on the sick list Tuesday and while all alone in his tent that morning at 10 o'clock, he took the rope from which the lantern was suspended and hanged himself. When found he was dead, the attending physician saying his neck was broken. Dickens was sent up for murder, he having killed a man and severely wounded another at Social Circle about four years ago.

"Dutch" Ford, a white convict, escaped from the same camp Tuesday by killing one of the hounds. He was sent up for safe blowing. A man filling his description was seen near the Lawrenceville depot Thursday morning. Wednesday night a mule and buggy were stolen from the stable of C. G. Weaver at Loganville, and the team was found hitched at W. P. Peavy's store this morning. It is believed that Ford drove the team to Lawrenceville under cover of darkness and made good his escape. Whether he caught the early morning train for Atlanta from this point or made off on foot is not known. "Dutch" is described as being about thirty years old, five feet, seven inches tall, weight about 150 pounds and clad in a citizen's suit.

Two of Walton's squads are working in the vicinity of Loganville, and General Boyce, colored, ran away from Jim Thompson's camp Wednesday. He has not been apprehended yet.

91 HORSES AND MULES DIE IN COLUMBUS FIRE

One Animal Jumps From Second Story Window and Escapes—Five People Hurt.

Columbus, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) Ninety-one horses and mules were burned to death in a fire which early this morning destroyed the Palace stables and damaged two adjoining buildings at a total loss of between $75,000 and $100,000.

A large number of horses on the first floor of the stable were rescued, but made a frantic effort afterwards to get back into the burning building. Nearly all the live stock on the second floor perished, and over fifty carriages, buggies and other vehicles were destroyed. The screams of the dying animals were frightful. One horse jumped from a second story window and escaped.

Several persons had close calls when one of the walls of the building collapsed, damaging the adjoining Woodruff-Gatewood garage and Exchange building, although not seriously.

Fireman Joe Hagan and Tom Davis were standing on top of the wall when it fell, and they and Fireman Sam Awtrey were buried in the debris, but were rescued quickly. They were injured, but not seriously. Henry L. Woodruff, J. B. Banks and Henry Hogg, spectators, were caught by the flying brick and mortar, but escaped serious injury.

The Palace stable building was owned by Richard Howard and was insured. Last spring the building was practically demolished by a cyclone. The Palace Stable company, of which Newell K. Bowden is president, estimates its loss at $50,000, with $34,000 insurance.

Most of the live stock burned were owned by outside people, and the loss is distributed among a good many.

STATE EXONERATES INSURANCE COMPANY

Charges Against Bankers' Health and Life and P. L. Hay Declared Baseless.

Charges of alleged attempt on the part of the officers of the Bankers' Health and Life Insurance company, of Macon, and P. L. Hay, of Macon, to connive to corrupt the agents of the corporation, were threshed out before the state insurance commission yesterday, and at the conclusion of the hearing of the testimony a verdict of absolute exoneration was returned.

Governor John M. Slaton, Attorney General T. S. Felder and Insurance Commissioner W. A. Wright sat as the board of investigation. Attorney General Felder declared after the hearing concluded that there was no foundation for the charges.

The accusations were made against the company by Otis Cardell, former agent of the company. Substantially the charges were to the effect that the officers of the company allowed the agents to rebate policies in violation of the insurance acts of 1912. It was also charged that agents were allowed to revive expired policies without collecting adequate premiums to cover them.

ANTI-SALOON BATTLE STILL RAGES IN MACON

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Three more Macon saloons were put out of business today through the injunction plan adopted by the Macon Law Enforcement league. This makes a total of forty-three saloons which have been closed since the campaign was inaugurated a few weeks ago by the Law Enforcement league, two of these being closed permanently and the remainder temporarily. There are only twenty-six saloons now in operation and practically all of these will be closed within a short time, it is stated.

The Law Enforcement league is proceeding under the "blind tiger" act, which holds that a "blind tiger" is a nuisance and therefore subject to abatement. Saloons selling genuine beer, such as is being sold in Macon, come under this heading. It is said the league has secured evidence of the sale of whisky by every saloon in the city, with the possible exception of two or three.

The three restraining orders granted today by Judge Mathews, of the Bibb superior court, were against the Lanier Hotel Buffet, M. Heimer, Bridge Row, and C. E. Handall, Cotton avenue.

SCOTT MUST ANSWER CHARGE OF BIGAMY

Danville, Va., October 2.—(Special.) T. J. Scott, of Lithonia, Ga., charged with bigamy, was given a preliminary hearing today on the charge of bigamy and pleading guilty was bound over for the December term of the corporation court in the sum of $2,000. Bond was furnished by a friend. Scott, while in jail made a confession and exonerated Lula Bell Chandler, a wealthy widow and his second wife of all blame.

MYSTERY VEILS CUTTING OF GIRL

Miss Singleton's Bosom Gashed, But Oelrichs Denies Stabbing — Oelrichs Likely to Be Expelled.

New York, October 2.—Mystery perplexed investigators tonight in the case of Herman Oelrichs, millionaire law student at Columbia university, and Miss Lucille Singleton, daughter of a Texas mine owner. Although Oelrichs was held in a magistrate's court today for a hearing next Tuesday on the charge that he stabbed the girl in the breast while they were in his automobile a few nights ago, the question exists as to whether she received her injuries in this manner or from the jagged points of the broken windshield through which she was thrown when young Oelrichs' car crashed into a tree.

Gashes on Girl's Bosom.

Dr. Kergar, of the Knickerbocker hospital, who attended the girl on the night of the automobile accident, conferred with the police this afternoon.

"I found several cuts on the young woman's bosom," he said. "One of these may have been inflicted with a knife or other sharp instrument, but I believe it was caused by contact with the glass of the windshield through which she was hurled. That is what she told me. It is impossible to say with certainty how the cuts were inflicted."

The case was further complicated today by a statement by Oelrichs' lawyer to the effect that a third person, said to be a Columbia university student, was in the machine with Oelrichs and Miss Singleton. The identity of this person was not disclosed by Oelrichs' lawyer, who characterized as "absolutely ridiculous" the charge that his client stabbed Miss Singleton.

The Girl Not in Court.

Miss Singleton did not appear in court today to press the compaint, and was said tonight to be still in bed. The physician who attended her at a hospital after the automobile accident stated it was not possible to say how the cuts in her chest were inflicted. From Dallas, Texas, came a dispatch stating that Edwin Singleton, the girl's father, had received a telegram from her to the effect that she had not been stabbed. Miss Singleton is said to have lived formerly in Los Angeles.

Dean Stone, of Columbia, said he would have Oelrichs brought before him and the faculty in the course of an investigation. "If the facts as presented in the newspapers are true," he declared, "or even if they approximate the truth, he cannot remain in the institution."

Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, widow of the late Herman Oelrichs, who amassed a fortune of millions from steamship lines, early today saved her son from spending the entire night in a police station cell by going his bond for $5.000, giving her $100,000 residence as security.

Deputy Commissioner Dougherty, who has charge of the police end of the case, said this afternoon.

"I have learned that Miss Singleton received each month a check from Dallas, Texas. The checks were from a man named Smith, and were cashed by the girl at a drug store in Harlem."

Miss Singleton Texas Girl.

Miss Mary Chambers, principal of the Darlington seminary at Westchester, Pa., where the Singleton girl says she attended school, was quoted here today as having said over the long distance telephone:

"There was a Miss Lucile Singleton here about three years ago. She was a pupil for about a year and a half and registered from Dallas, Texas. I met her father once when he came to the seminary with his daughter. Mr. Singleton said he was a miner. Last year Miss Singleton returned to the seminary, but remained only three or four months, leaving in April or May.

"She was well thought of in the seminary. She was very quiet and one of the most studious pupils we had at the time. We do not know anything about her family and since she left the seminary we have not heard from or of her. Her registered address was care of Edwin Singleton, 1404 Wood street, Dallas, Texas."

Father of Girl Talks.

Dallas, Texas, October 2.—Edwin Singleton, father of Lucile Singleton, who was reported stabbed by Hermann Oelrichs Tuesday night in New York, today denied that his daughter had been stabbed, as reported, declaring he had a telegram from her conveying this information. The telegram assured him, he said, her injuries had been received when the automobile was wrecked in a collision.

Miss Singleton had known Oelrichs for some time under the name of "Creighton," her father said, "having been introduced to him by a mutual friend. She has been staying in New York studying music since her graduation from Darlington seminary."

Mr. Singleton will leave this city for New York early tomorrow. He is a mining man, whose interests are in the Taos district of Mexico, and he returned from that place last night.

MOB SPIRIT RULED IN TRIAL OF FRANK, SAYS RABBI SOLOMON

Savannah, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) In his New Year's sermon this morning, Rabbi George Solomon declared the Frank trial in Atlanta was governed by the mob spirit. He deprecated the fact the spirit of lawlessness which is now sweeping the country has made its influence felt within the portals of justice.

Dr. Solomon made pointed reference to the Schmidt, Godbee and other cases. He referred to the Sulzer trial in New York.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If cross, feverish, constipated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Husband of Five "Wives" Stumped by Marriage Tangle

Kansas City, Mo., October 2.—Details of a marriage tangle so puzzling that even the defendant, A. O. Jacobs, erstwhile husband of five "wives," threw up his hands when asked for details, were brought out at today's session of the trial of Jacobs, charged in the district court with bigamy. Jacobs is a horse dealer Four of the "wives" are living.

The charge was brought by Mrs. Mary Paul Jacobs, of this city, who said Jacobs already was united to Mrs. Cora Andrew Jacobs, of Kansas City, Mo., when he married her. Under a Kansas law prohibiting re-marriage within six months after divorce, Jacobs contended both these marriages were illegal, since he contracted them within six months after his divorce from Mrs. Merle Maher Jacobs, in Fort Scott, Kans., and therefore that he was no bigamist. In rebuttal the state sought to prove that the divorce had no effect on the case inasmuch as the marriage in Fort Scott was itself illegal, having been contracted a month before Jacobs was divorced by a former wife, Katie D. Lancaster Jacobs, of Jonesboro, Ark., a blind woman.

It was at this point that the horse dealer threw up his hands and asserted it was impossible for him to remember "all the red tape" surrounding his marriages.

RETURNING FROM VISIT WOMAN SHOOTS SELF

No Motive Can Be Assigned for Mrs. H. W. Perry's Act. Will Probably Die.

Brunswick, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) Returning to the city this morning at 8 o'clock fro mOhio, where she had been visiting, Mrs. H. W. Perry, wife of the general superintendent of the Yaryan Naval Stores company, shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon placed a pistol to her breast and fired in an effort to end her life, and, while she was not successful, the bullet missing the heart a mere fraction, she is tonight lingering between life and death, and little hope is entertained for her recovery.

The act of Mrs. Perry, who is popular among a large circle of friends in the city, seems to be a complete mystery. No reason whatsoever can be assigned for the deed. She returned this morning apparently in the best mood, greeted her husband and children in her usual way and talked with others in the house of her trip.

Mrs. Perry was just preparing to leave his apartment for the naval stores plant when he heard the report of the pistol, and, rushing to the bed room, found his wife across the bed with a bullet hole in her breast and a 38-caliber pistol lying on the floor.

Mrs. Perry left no note or any other information as to why she had attempted to end her life.

Ante-Bellum Society Meets.

The Dixie-Before-The-War society, or as it has been nicknamed, the "pot likker" society, will meet tonight at the residence of W. S. McNeal, 63 Windsor street, to perfect plans for the organization of a state society with chapters in every town to preserve the customs and traditions of the old south.

Mr. McNeal was elected corresponding and financial secretary at the meeting at the Ansley hotel last Monday night, and he will travel about the state in the interest of the society. It is the ultimate intention of the society to erect a memorial building in Atlanta.

THREE MEN IN RACE FOR MAYOR PRO TEM

Ragsdale, Harwell and Nutting Mentioned as Most Likely Candidates.

With the personnel of the 1914 city council definitely decided, the next most engrossing topic among members of that body is, "Who will be next mayor pro tem?"

Three candidates are mentioned. Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, perhaps the most beloved member of the general council, and a sound and conservative member, is being urged to run against Alderman John H. Harwell, of the first, and Alderman James R. Nutting, of the sixth ward.

Friends of Alderman Ragsdale have been busy for months boosting him for the place, and it is said that he will win easy, because of the prestige he enjoys among the members, and because of his generosity to the city in times of need.

"WERE NOT AT HOME AT TIME OF ARRESTS"

C. C. Summers, who was recently arraigned in police court with his wife charged with giving intoxicants to minors, has stated to The Constitution that he and Mrs. Summers were not at home on the night the Allen and Shields boys were arrested by plain clothes policemen and charged with drunk and disorderly conduct. The couple did not return, it was said, until midnight, and after the arrests were made.

Wyatt Foster Named.

Rome, Ga., October 2—(Special.) Wyatt Foster, a well-known young real estate man, has been appointed as one of the deputies in the office of D. W. Simmons, clerk of the superior court. He succeeds Paul I. Morris, who resigns to go into business.

If you ever buy a mortgage, the first thing you'll do is to consider carefully the underlying security; then you'll take into account the names on the paper—the moral security; sometimes the man is more important than the property involved.

In the course of your life you probably invest in clothes enough money to buy a good big mortgage. Do you know anything about the underlying security in the clothes you wear? Does the name and reputation of the maker mean anything to you?

Our suits and overcoats are made to be "gilt-edged" security; we put our name into them as a guaranty of good faith.

If you knew how much value you would find in our suits or overcoats at $25, you'd start now to buy one.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had at Hotaling's Newsstands, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner), Thirty-eighth street and Broadway and Twenty-ninth street and Broadway.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

THE SUNDAY MAIL.

The Constitution publishes today a communication from Postmaster Bolling Jones, which demonstrates the howling farce involved in the suspension by Hitchcock of Sunday mail deliveries in Atlanta and elsewhere. Postmaster Jones' letter was written in indorsement of a Constitution editorial approving his stand for the restoration of such deliveries under the old conservative hours.

Postmaster Jones shows that not only does the closing rules now in effect place a heavy added tax upon the people of Atlanta, but that it compels postal employees to work overtime, instead of affording them a rest and opportunity for religious devotion. Under the law, the special delivery letter service cannot be suspended. The traveling and business public generally have become aware of this fact. As a result, the letters that would under normal conditions be delivered from boxes or at the window on Sundays are now delivered with an added toll of 10 cents each. A large force of messengers must be kept busy all Sunday to take care of this delivery. These men enjoy no Sunday rest.

Mr. Jones corroborates The Constitution's reminder that the congestion of mail compelled by Sunday closing drives a large force of clerks to overwork Monday morning from midnight to 10 o'clock. One of the most objectionable features he indicates is the discrimination whereby persons registering at hotels can secure their mail on Sundays, while others cannot. When it is borne in mind that each week-end thousands of commercial travelers arrive in Atlanta for Sunday, and that Sunday is the one day they can get the mail which will determine their routes for the next week, the additional burden on business is apparent.

Postmaster Jones has been noted for his religious affiliations. He frankly states that it is largely because of this fact that he hopes to remove the Sunday ban, for the reason that more employees are forced to work on Sunday in the special delivery department than those who are relieved in the other departments by the Sunday closing regulations.

This stupid and expensive relic of Hitchcockism should be swept out without delay. It is full of penalties and does not possess one compensating feature.

SAMPLES, TARE AND COVERING.

Elsewhere The Constitution publishes a communication from M. H. Carter, of Troy, Ala., protesting against the use of the term, the "city cotton crop," recently used in an editorial. Mr. Carter doubts if the aggregate from promiscuous sampling mounts to 200,000 bales a year, and says that in any event the excessive tare from this source comes out of the buyer and not the farmer.

The Constitution's editorial was based upon a dispatch from its Washington correspondent, and published September 29. In that dispatch reference was made to the 200,000 bale "city crop," and a bill by Congressman Adamson, now pending, was quoted as making it penal to subtract samples from a bale, after it had left the gin. Our correspondent objects to the gin sampling method. That is, of course, a matter of preference, in which professional interest may legitimately be expected to enter. The Constitution is quite sure that no reputable cotton houses indulge in widespread and expensive sampling, the farmer paying the freight. It does know that in many of the isolated markets, the farmers have for several years been in arms against the practice. As for tare, that issue has been in dispute since "who laid the rail." This contention between producer and buyer must, evidently, be settled by the government. The steamship companies originally initiated the uniform bale rule, in violation of which each bale is penalized. But its enforcement and promulgation was left to the railroads.

As to bad covering, The Constitution agrees with all that Mr. Carter says as to the necessity for a better system, and no newspaper in the country has urged the importance of a change more strenuously or more consistently than The Constitution.

BLOCKING DEVELOPMENT.

How poor roads block and good roads stimulate development of every nature, with a special reference to the pending plan to make the prison commission of Georgia a road-building body, is suggested in a communication published elsewhere from the Rev. Nath Thompson, a well-known evangelist and educational specialist.

Mr. Thompson says that up in Pickens county they are working on a vocational school for mountain boys. Mountain schools, like others, require good roads for sustenance. Looking to that end, the promoters of the enterprise are spending $10 a day for a road expert.

As Mr. Thompson states, if the prison commission were in position to supply this county with an expert, a badly needed and not overly well financed enterprise would proceed quickly toward development, and the whole county would prosper. The same principle applies to schools everywhere, to churches everywhere, to general improvement projects everywhere. In each channel transportation is the keynote to development. It is the forerunner to progress. The county that cannot afford a road expert is the county that is penalized in growth. And every county thus situated is a drag on the state.

The prison commission has the legal authority. It is being inundated by requests from road boards to exercise that authority. The quicker it begins to do so the more quickly will it discover a role of usefulness rarely approximated by any commission in the history of Georgia.

BLUE PRINTING ATLANTA.

The plan to have the future street grades and sewer levels of Atlanta permanently established by means of a topographical survey is intensely profitable and practicable, and The Constitution notes with pleasure that Alderman-elect Albert Thomson is to actively push it. Money spent by council toward this end would, in the long run, return dividends to the city and to the property-owners many times the size of the original investment.

The grades and sewer levels of many of the streets in Atlanta, several of them in the heart of the city, have been altered three, four, five and six times. Each time such alterations have been made, property-owners have been compelled, at large cost and great inconvenience, to change the grades of their lots. As Alderman Thomson says, the claims committee of council is constantly busy with claims growing out of this condition. The money thus expended by the city for a few months would defray the cost of a topographical map. And all the money thus expended would have been saved had a topographical map been employed many years ago.

Ivy street affords a pertinent illustration of the scientific and the non-scientific methods of municipal rebuilding. The street, in its present condition, is an unanswerable argument for regrading and general improvement. It is now an almost level thoroughfare where a few months ago it was a series of hills and valleys, almost prohibitive to certain forms of traffic. But had Atlanta adopted the blue-print method many years ago property-owners on Ivy and the city government would have built with a view to the future grade of the street. As it is, the penalties to residents and users of the thoroughfare are too well known to need recital.

The change the city has wrought on Ivy should be the eventual policy of the city toward all important streets. Whitehall, Forsyth and Peachtree are other illustrations so well known as to bring the point home to the entire community.

The use of a topographical map would not mean that all the changes it specifies would be at once materialized. It would mean that with the erection of every building and the change of every street, builders and the city would work to a definite plan. Each constructive stroke would be to a permanent end. There would be no lost motion.

The Constitution believes that council and the city generally will indorse the plan, once it is thoroughly understood.

It's plain as day that if somebody will show the Colonel where the ring was he'll take a long chance and throw his hat in that vicinity.

Much may be forgiven if they will make money talk so plain that the people won't have to say, "What's that?"

Just From Georgia

By FRANK L. STANTON

An Old-Time Opinion.

I.

Says my friend there, by the fire:
"I'm glad I lived to see
These New Times that are singin'
The lightnin'-songs to me!
Who would 'a' thought, in our old day,
We'd live to see folks fly away
Cl'ar 'cross the mountains cold an' gray
To where the red stars be?

II.

"Ef any angel from the sky
Had told me in that time
That ships with sails' of steel would fly
Higher than squirrels climb,
'You're Ananias, I'll allow,'
Is what I'd said: 'An' tell me how
Is yer good wife, Sapphira, now?
I hope she's feelin' prime.'"

III.

My friend, he talked on that away:
"In these New Times we're blest."
I tilted then the old jug gray:
"We'll let the New Times rest!"
He took "four fingers"—straight—or more!
Smackin' his mouth the goblet o'er,
Says he: "It's forty year old—shore!
Please God, old times were best!"

It was good, too!"

The "Explaining" Day.

He hasn't complained of the summer,
Though red fire burned body and brain;
It's not the hot air
Blazing 'round him up there,
But just that he's got to "explain!"

There are folks all too willing to greet him
When he steps from the Washington train:
He'd fain give commands
For a thunder of bands,
But alas! they must let him "explain!"

He must tell of the why and the wherefore—
Why trusts and high prices remain;
All that they care for
Is: "What were you there for?"
And that's what he'll have to explain.

The Truthful Weather Historian.

The weatherman of The Western World says it has been so dry in some sections "wagons were going around with their tongues out. Ice has to be soaked in water all night before it is wet enough to make lemonade. The fish in Big creek kick up such a dust that Dean has to springle the creek before he goes fishing. A spark from an engine set fire to Spring creek and burned a lot of the creek and bullfrogs before it could be extinguished. And the ground is so dry and hard that crawfish holes in low places are being pulled and used for water pipes."

Cause for Thankfulness.

Says a correspondent of The McPherson Democrat:

"After reading the testimonial of some Virginia woman concerning the virtues of a patent medicine, in the course of which she states that she is the mother of eighteen children, I rejoice with exceeding joy this beautiful Thursday morning that that brand of patent medicine never broke into my family."

A Cautious Writer.

(From The London Globe.)

Not since the country editor wrote of the "alleged murder of Abel by Cain" has there been such a cautious journalist as The Daily Mail's dramatic critic, who refers to Zuleika (in a new piece at His Majesty's) as "this bad woman, but good actress."

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON,
The Famous Prose Poet

NATURE'S MISTAKE.

"Nature is a wonderful worker," said the professor. "She foresees everything, and makes no mistakes."

"I don't agree with you there," observed the low-browed man, seating himself on the porch railing. "I am going downtown this morning, and just as I was leaving the house Aunt Julia told me to be sure and get a shave, for my face looks like an old rag carpet. I hate to spend fifteen cents for a shave, but I'll have to do it, or my aunt will be raising ructions for hours together. She just simply can't stand it to see a man around with his whiskers leaking.

"I was just wondering when I came along here what nature's idea was in giving a man whiskers. I never could see any sense in it. If he keeps them trimmed all the time the barbers get most of his change, and when he goes to church on Sunday he can't afford to drop more than a paltry tobacco tag in the contribution box. Some people use safety razors, and I suppose they save money by it, but they all look as though they had secret sorrows. I have an idea that the man who shaves himself feels cheap and insignificant, and I don't see how he can look a respectable barber in the face.

"If a man doesn't shave or be shaved, his whiskers soon become a nuisance. I wore whiskers for a few months and had no end of trouble with them. I smoked a pipe then, as I do now, and every once in a while the fire would drop out of my pipe and get among my whiskers and then there'd be a conflagration. It got so after a while that I had to carry a hand grenade to be ready for an incipient blaze in my hangdowns, and I foresaw that I'd have to organize a volunteer fire department if they kept on growing.

"A man's whiskers keep on growing after he's dead, and so he'll look like a rube on the day of resurrection, and this as a disturbing thought when we are dying. Naturally we all want to look as smooth as possible when Gabriel summons us, and instead of that we'll all be wearing post-mortem whiskers, and the barber shops will all be closed.

"Seeing that whiskers are a nuisance, to both the living and dead, I can't figure out why nature sprung them on us. They are as superfluous as a cow's horns. Maybe you will explain a cow's horns, since you are standing up for nature and all her works. I have sat up and burned the midnight oil many a weary night, trying to determine why a cow has horns, and had to give it up. Maybe she had use for them a million years ago, when there were wolves and hyenas in every pasture, but she has no more need of them now than man has need of red whiskers.

"Nature must be the worst standpatter in the universe if she keeps on loading cows with horns millions of years after such horns were obsolete. Nature ought to join the progressive party and get a few pointers from Armageddon. She ought to abolish all outworn things and keep up to date. If she would equip a cow with a self milking attachment, and cut out the horns, she'd be indorsed by press and pulpit.

"Nature makes more mistakes than you could count in a year. She got her wires crossed when she invented hens and roosters. The rooster is built with a triumphant voice, and a stranger hearing him crow would think he had just knocked out a home run with three on bases. But as a matter of fact, the rooster does nothing to brag about, and he ought to sing mighty low. If there's a critter on earth without visible means of support, that critter is the rooster, and yet he makes more noise than a granger picnic.

"The hen, on the other hand, contributes to the wealth of nations and lifts the mortgage from the farmer's touring car. The hen, when properly wound and set, lays an egg every day, and you know what eggs are worth at the grocery store, professor. If her vocal organs were properly constructed, she would crow so you could hear her 5 miles, every time she lays an egg. But the best she can do is to put up a silly cackle that sounds like cogs slipping, and causes people to throw bricks at her. Yet in the face of this you sit here arguing that nature never made any mistakes."

"She certainly made a mistake when she gave you such inexhaustible lung power," sighed the professor.

BERLIN.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

Berlin is situated in, around and on top of Germany. It is the pet town of Kaiser Wilheim, who has filled it so full of statues that it looks like home coming week in German history. Berlin has 2,200,000 people but when Chicago's census was announced the German town annexed its suburbs in its statuary, thus enabling it to reach 3,000,000 at a single bound.

Berlin is the best regulated city on earth. Only its citizens are allowed to smoke and the wind does not blow over 12 miles an hour. The city is washed each morning at 5 o'clock and the streets are dried with Turkish towels. There are only three great crimes in Berlin—throwing paper on the streets, going home early in the evening and walking through the central arch of the Brandenburg gate.

Berlin is the capital of Germany and is the center of its pride and affection. The Berlin man steps over the inhabitants while traveling in the provinces as the New York actor does while sojourning in Indiana. The city is full of palaces, government buildings, cathedrals and haughty German officers who take as much room on the sidewalk as a full rigged ship. Berlin claims to be the most beautiful city on earth and if there is ever another Franco-Prussian war, it will be started by Parisians and Berliniers discussing their respective cities.

Once upon a time Berlin was very slow and the night watchman arrested every one found loitering on the streets after supper. All this has changed, however. Berlin now begins to waken about 11 p. m., and by 3 a. m is perfectly happy and gay. The largest eating house in the world is located in Berlin and the diners do not go home until the janitor puts the cat out and takes in the milk in the morning.

Berlin has underground railroads, department stores, cabarets and all modern improvements, except tall buildings. The city is three stories high and is as afraid of elevators as London. If any capitalist were to try to erect a 24-story office building in Berlin he would be tried for treason against art before he had driven the first rivet.

Berlin exists without baseball, aldermen, newspaper extras, and ice cream soda fountains, but is magnificently equipped with grand opera, parks, window boxes, beer gardens, sausage shops, "Verboten" signs and town pride. Chicago is called the windy city, but a Chicago man bragging about Michigan avenue is a dead calm beside a Berlin man talking about the Tiergarten and Unter den Linden. Berlin expects to be the largest city in the world some day and if necessary the Kaiser will pass a law to that effect.

"So full of statutes that it looks like home-coming week in German history."

The World's Mysteries

WHO WAS "X. Y. Z?"

Who represented the letters X. Y. Z. during our troubles with the French republic in 1797 to 1799? Readers of history are familiar with the facts in connection with the controversy between the two young republics, which nearly resulted in a declaration of war in 1799. Washington had finished his second term as president, and had written his farewell address, and John Adams was elected to succeed him, with Thomas Jefferson as vice-president.

John Adams took his Cabinet from his predecessor. It was not a strong one and was devoted to Hamilton, who was an opposing candidate. Shortly after Adams was inaugurated there was a strong divergence to be noticed between the president and Hamilton. The latter was fond of power, whereas Adams displayed a laudable purpose to command his own ship.

Very shortly Adams found himself in a sea of troubles, mainly created by the unreasonable demands of the French government. The French "Directory," enraged especially by Jay's treaty with England, got rid of one American minister by remonstrance, and drove out another, Mr. Pinckney, with contempt. When Mr. Adams sent three special envoys, Messrs. Gerry, Marshall and Pinckney, they were expected to undertake the most delicate negotiations with certain semi-official persons designated in their correspondence only by the letters X. Y. Z.

The plan of this covert intercourse came through the private secretary of M. de Talleyrand, then French minister of foreign affairs; and the impudence of these three letters of the alphabet went so far as to impose a fine of $240,000 to be paid over to his minister. "You must pay money, a great deal of money," remarked Monsieur Y.

The secret of these names was kept, but the diplomatic correspondence was made public, and it created much wrath in Europe as well as in America. Moreover, American vessels were constantly being attacked by France, and yet congress refused to arm its own ships. At last the insults passed beyond bearing, and it was at this time that "millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute," first became a proverbial phrase, having been originally used by Charles C. Pinckney.

Then, with tardy decision, the republicans yielded to the necessity of action, and the federal party took the lead. War was not formally proclaimed, but treaties with France were declared to be no longer binding. An army was ordered to be created, with Washington as lieutenant-general and Hamilton as second in command; and the president was authorized to appoint a secretary of the navy and to build twelve new ships of war.

Before these were ready naval hostilities had already begun; and Commodore Truxton in the United States frigate "Constellation" captured a French frigate in West Indian waters on February 9, 1799, and afterwards silenced another, which however escaped. Great was the excitement over these early naval successes of the young republic. The result of it all was that France yielded. Talleyrand, the very minister who had dictated the insults, now disavowed them, and pledged his government to receive any minister the United States might send.

President Adams, in the most eminently courteous act of his life, took the responsibility of again sending ambassadors, and did this without even consulting his cabinet. They were at once received and all danger of a war with France was at an end. This bold stroke separated the president permanently from at least half of his own party, since the federalists did not wish peace with France. His course would have given him a corresponding favor from the other side, but for the great mistake the federalists had made in passing certain laws called the "Alien" law and the "Sedition" law.

In the negotiations leading up to the strained relations between France and the United States, three men figured prominently as representing Talleyrand. Their names were Hottinguer, Bellamy and Hauteval, and they are generally supposed to have represented the letters "X. Y. Z.," but in all the official French correspondence their names did not appear, and as nothing serious eventually came out of the incident, no effort was made by our government to establish their identity, but the matter was closed without revealing who these initials represented.

POSTMASTER JONES SHOWS SUNDAY CLOSING FOLLY

Editor Constitution: I appreciate very much the editorial published in The Constitution commending Sunday delivery. I am very glad to have your indorsement and the influence of your paper regarding this matter.

For your information, I desire to give you the situation as I have found it: The hotels get their mail Sunday mornings. It is prepared for them, and they send for it; but, unless mail is addressed in care of a hotel, no individual inmate of any one can secure his or her mail addressed otherwise. This I deem unfair discrimination against the man who cannot definitely know at what hotel he may stop, and it is this class I intend to try and deliver their mail on Sundays between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning through the general delivery window.

Further, I find a great many salesmen with headquarters in Atlanta desire their mail before Monday morning, in order to be able to decide where they will go on their first trip on Monday. I think it very important that this class of patrons, also, should be able to receive their mail on Sundays, and I am going to try and put their mail in their boxes on Sunday mornings up to 10 o'clock.

I am a law-abiding citizen, a churchman and a church worker, and my very church affiliation is one of the reasons why I favor the change proposed, and I believe the public will indorse my attitude in this matter.

It is a fact not generally known that the existing arrangement of a closed postoffice on Sunday absolutely forces more men and boys to work on Sunday than it would require to distribute the mail for a few hours Sunday morning.

Let me explain: The postoffice cannot be closed against Sunday special delivery letters. Under the law, these letters must be delivered on Sunday as well as any other day. The very fact that there is no distribution on Sunday runs up the number of special delivery letters received in Atlanta on Sunday to between 600 and 700. As a general thing, they are letters of an important nature, and delivery cannot be delayed until Monday. These 600 or 700 special delivery letters cost the senders 10 cents extra each. To deliver them we must keep in the postoffice, not for a few hours, but all day Sunday, thirty special delivery boys who are denied the privilege of going either to church or Sunday school, and in no other day of the week are there near so many boys on special delivery duties, for Sunday is the big special delivery day.

To this extent, therefore, not only is an extra tax imposed upon the people, but more extra boys are required to work on Sunday than the number of clerks that would be necessary to distribute the mail for a few hours Sunday morning.

In this connection it must be remembered that, with no Sunday distribution, the accumulation of an extra day's mail works a hardship on those who have to make a two days' distribution, not to speak of the necessary delay incident to the handling of two days' mail.

Five clerks working until 8 o'clock in the morning and three from 8 until 10 can do this work, and give the people the mail I think they should have. This would at the same time give more postoffice employees an opportunity to go to church than now, by the reduction that would take place in the special delivery work.

COTTON COVERING.

Editor Constitution: In your recent editorial entitled "Neglecting the Pawn," you say "Buyers dig samples out of bales right and left and never trouble to return them. The 'sweepings' from this source are estimated at 200,000 bales annually. A law that would compel uniformity in sampling would check this undesirable form of piracy."

The farmer's cotton is weighed before it is sampled, and he is paid for the full weight. The buyer carefully saves the samples and repacks same to protect himself against the loss in weight from sampling. These repacked bales the buyer sells at a discount of 1-4 to 1-2 cent per pound. The amount sampled from each bale will not average over one-half pound. So you see the great waste and piracy you speak of is an actual loss of only one-eighth to one-fourth of one cent per bale. And this infinitesimal piratical loss falls on the buyer, and not the farmer. It is so extremely small that the buyer does not and cannot figure it against the farmer. Now, the proper sampling and grading of cotton is a very important matter in the cotton business. There is quite a difference in value of some of the grades, and the buyer is compelled to guarantee the grade to the mill. The sampling is of too vital importance to the buyer for it to be left to the average careless ginner. And who would go to the trouble of carefully preserving the identity of each individual sample from the ginner through its intricate course to its final destination to the mill in Europe for one-half of one cent? The expense attached to that procedure would be greater than the saving. Do not throttle competition by restricted sampling. Sample freely and offer the cotton to all buyers possible and thereby obtain the highest competitive price.

The uniform bale improvement was brought about by the European steamer lines. That is, the steamer lines are doing all they can to bring about the uniform bale, but the farmer is bitterly opposing this great improvement. In this section a good percentage of the farmers have taken the position that they will be "goshderned" if anybody can tell him how he must pack his cotton or take care of it after it is packed. He is still packing over-size bales and putting them up in dirty, greasy bagging and throwing them out in the weather to get wet and damaged. A prominent member of the farmers' union in this county put about seventy-five bales of his cotton out on the ground, without any cover, and left it there through the spring and summer, in plain sight of the public road. It, of course, damaged from 25 to 40 per cent. What a senseless and profligate waste! This is by no means an isolated case. Every year thousands upon thousands of bales are thrown out upon the ground by farmers and allowed to damage before being brought to market. Here is a great field of usefulness for the farmers' union and the newspapers.

Just a word about the great bugaboo, "tare." You do not know me, and therefore I will request you to go to any reliable cotton buyer in Atlanta and ask him about tare. See if he does not tell you that the profit on tare is figured in the price paid the farmer. If the enormous tare profits talked about were actually made by the buyer, why are we not all retiring on our enormous fortunes after a few years? Look around you and see how many great fortunes have been made in cotton in the south in the last twenty years—none. The Inmans made a great deal of money in cotton, but it was years ago, when competition was not so strong. The great Greek house of Ralli Bros., one of the largest dealers in spot cotton the trade has ever known, retired from the cotton business a few years ago because it ceased to be profitable. Look at the wrecks along the shores of the cotton business. How could this be true if there is such enormous profits in tare? As a matter of fact, the cotton business is one of the most highly competitive businesses in existence. The farmer comes nearer getting value for his cotton first hand than for any other product produced from the earth.

The Cost of Poor Roads.

Editor Constitution: I certainly am with Commissioner Patterson in the movement to have civil engineers help lay out public highways, and I hope the commission will act accordingly.

We are building a vocational school on a five-thousand-acre campus here in the mountains of Pickens and Dawson counties. We are trying to wake up people around about on the question of good roads. We are having to pay a man $10 a day and all expenses to help lay out some roads. Most of these will be public highways. It does look like the state ought to be in shape at least to encourage to some extent such work as this. While our folks are doing the best they can, in many places in Georgia we certainly need the leadership of the civil engineer to lay out these highways. It would be much money saved.

CLINKERS.

By George Matthew Adams

No matter how much fuel is put into a fire-pot, or how much you poke or shake at it, if its heart is choked with Clinkers, you are bound to lose heat and waste your fuel unless you remove the Clinkers. It's the same with your Brain. Remove the Clinkers—and your Thought at once reaches its highest efficiency.

Clinkers in the Brain are useless and idle Thoughts.

And if the Clinker Thoughts are not removed as they appear, they soon begin their terrible work of choking out all worthy thought, and soon replace the machinery of a wonderful Brain, ready to respond instantly to big demands, with a mere store-house of rusty junk—Clinkers.

Start the work of each day with your Brain free from Clinkers.

The best way to handle Brain Clinkers is to keep your Mind healthy and active. Read the most inspiring books. Associate with the people whose Ideas are prolific and whose Characters stimulate strength and independence in you. Travel, if you can. Form the habit of looking for something helpful and beautiful in both Nature and People. Learn Something from every thing. But remember to—

Get out the Clinkers in your Brain just the minute that you discover that they are there.

MAY USE JURORS TO DENY CHARGES

Dorsey Expected to Produce Affidavits, Denying Jurors' Alleged Bias Against Frank. Postponement Seen.

The hearing of the motion for a new trial made by attorneys for Leo M. Frank, convicted slayer of Mary Phagan, which is scheduled to come up Saturday, will likely be postponed two weeks. The delay will probably come following a request of Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey, who, although struggling through the defense's brief as rapidly as possible, will not be ready to proceed at that time, as he is now in the midst of digesting and answering the 115 objections made by the convicted man's lawyers.

"t will take me from now on until the first of next wek," said Mr. Dorsey Thursday, "to get through with my end of this petition. There are nine volumns of evidence to diges: and answer. It is a superhuman task to have this mass of evidence in any shape to make a court appearance Saturday, at least."

May Be Heard October 18.

From authentic sources it was learned that the possible date for the hearing of the motion will be October 18. Judge L. S Roan may not take a seat in the court of appeals until he hears the Frank retrial motion, and Thursday he indicated that he would not be ready to take his new place for at least "some days," as he expressed it.

Conjecture was rife Thursday around the courthouse as to just what sort of replies Dorsey would make to the defense objections which centered in the plea that the "mob spirit controlled the Frank trial." It was suggested at the courthouse that Dorsey might bring affidavits from all of the Frank jurors denying that they were swayed in any manner by public sentiment.

Juror Johenning Indignant.

Already the replies of the Frank jurors charged with bias in affidavits presented by the defense attorneys are coming to light.

Marcus Johenning, of 161 Jones avenue, declared Thursday that the charge in his case was absolutely flimsy—"more flimsy than the paper on which it is written"—he said.

"I served on that jury because I did not want to lie out of so doing," he added. And now to accuse me of falsehood to secure a month's service is rank injustice. I lost money through the neglect of my business, and I had nothing to gain. If there are any persons who have made affidavits that we have done Frank an injustice, they have lied."

EMORY ALUMNI SEEK TO EXEMPT ENDOWMENT

Over twenty-five of the alumni of Emory college held a meeting at the University club last night and a committee was named to look into the matter of preparing a bill for presensation to the next session of the legislature which would exempt college endowments from taxation.

Robert Lee Avery, '86, president of the Alumni association of Emory college, presided. The committee appointed by him consisted of the following: E. V. Heath, of Waynesboro, Ga., chairman; H. E. W. Palmer, '72; Claude Smith, '93; George Stevens, '84; J. S. Gleaton, '96, and Thomas Connally, '02.

Crime Increase in Boston.

Boston, October 2.—An increase in crime in Boston is shown by the establishment of a new record in the number of cases handled by the municipal court in a year. For the year ended September 30 the total of these cases was 53,200, as compared with 46,700 in the previous year. The increase was most marked in drunkenness and automobile law violations.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS PLAN FOR BIG "RALLY DAY"

Special Programs in Many Schools—Central Presbyterian Pulling for 1,575.

In celebration of their annual "Rally day," a number of Atlanta's Sunday schools will have special programs next Sunday, and it is believed that the attendance figures will beat all records in many of the schools. The Central Presbyterian declares its intention of having 1,575 people in the Bible school next Sunday morning, and will carry its appeal literally "out into the highway" by stretching a big banner across Washington street announcing the special program of the day.

"The Rally day" program announced by the Central Presbyterian will include special musical numbers, a "Cradle Roll" presentation, and the following addresses:

"Christ in the International Lessons," Dr. Dunbar Ogden; "Christ as a Soul Winner," Marion Jackson; "Christ in the Social Life," Rev. C. R. Buford; "Christ in the Lives of Boys," Evans Brooks, and "Christ in Our Missions—Life of Livingston," James Buford.

Quartet at Second Baptist.

At the Second Baptist Sunday school there will also be a special program, on which the main feature will be the singing of a male quartet. Four classes will be promoted to higher departments in the school. The building has been elaborately decorated for "Rallly day," and it is believed that the attendance will soar well over 1,000.

Leading up to "Rally day" on Sunday as a climax, the North Avenue Presbyterian has been holding gatherings every night this week, each meeting being of some department of the school. A program will also be given Sunday morning, with a number of addresses, among them a talk by Dr. R. O. Flinn, on "Service of Others."

Among the other schools holding special "Rally day" services will be the Harris Street Presbyterian, Rev. Jere A. Moore, who has been out of the city, returning in time for the occasion.

DEATH CHAIR ORDERED TO KILL MURDERERS

Indianapolis, Ind., October 2.—Governor Ralston today ordered Warden Fogarty, of the state prison at Michigan City, to install immediately an electric chair for the execution of convicted murderers. Two weeks ago, when two men who had killed their wives, were condemned to death, prison officials declared they would be unable to carry out the court's decree because the last legislature, in substituting electrocution for hanging, had failed to appropriate money to install the outfit.

In issuing the orders for the electrical apparatus Governor Ralston stated that the money necessary would be paid out of the contingent funds.

TELEPHONE HEARING SET FOR OCTOBER 14

City of Columbus Asks Railroad Commission to Set Rates Recently Raised.

Chairman C. M. Candler, of the state railroad commission, announced yesterday that the hearing of the case of the city of Columbus against the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company had been fixed for October 14. The case is the most important on the calendar, and it is expected to consume more than a week in the hearing of testimony and the arguments.

The case was brought by the city of Columbus to prevent the company from increasing the rate 50 cents over the present rate. It is claimed that when the Bell company absorbed the small concern which held the franchise in Columbus, it was agreed that the rate would not be increased until 2,500 subscribers signed up contracts. The company secured 2,500 new subscribers and placed the new rate into effect.

Now the city wants the railroad commission to regulate the rate, and to that end has asked for a hearing, and also for an investigation by the commission of the property, plant and equipment of the phone company in order that it might be ascertained whether the facilities of the company are such as to warrant the service promised.

ent churches.

W. C. Cantrell, of Nebraska, said that the proposed change had created discontent in the church, and the Rev. W. H. Book, of Columbus, Ind., moved that the question be deferred two years. The Rev. Mr. Book later withdrew his original motion for two years and made it for one year, but this was defeated and the changes in the constitution were adopted by a clear majority.

CALHOUN'S COURT TO HOLD LONG SESSION

Under the request of Solicitor General Dorsey a continuous court will Judge Andrew Calhoun's court will be held next week beginning Monday, in Judge Bell's court room in the old city hall, for the purpose of lessening the crowded conditions at the jail.

Judge Bell will hear cases which do not require juries in chambers. Judge Ben Hill will open the superior court in the Thrower building quarters.

SLATON TO FOLLOW ELECTION CUSTOM

Proclamation for Election of Roddenbery's Successor in Thirty Days — Fifteen Candidates Likely.

A precedent set by other Georgia executives will be followed by Governor John M. Slaton in the matter of calling the election in the second congressional district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman S. A. Roddenbery.

This precedent allows the governor thirty days after the death or resignation of the incumbent to issue his official proclamation for the election, and he can fix the date of holding the election at any time after the lapse of the thirty days.

Attorney General T. S. Felder will send to Governor Slaton today his opinion advising that he follow the precedent. He will inform the governor that an election called in that manner will be entirely legal.

Congressman Roddenbery, whose death has created the vacancy in the second district, was elected to fill the unexpired term of Judge Griggs. The election called by Governor Joseph M. Brown was based on the precedent handed down to him, and is the same method which Governor Slaton will apply in this instance.

Felder Agrees With Slaton.

Governor Slaton's election proclamation may be issued Friday. He stated Wednesday afternoon that he had asked Attorney Felder for an opinion, explaining, however, that he felt at that time inclined to follow the practice of his predecessors.

"It is just a question of reading English," Governor Slaton said. "The federal statute says that the election proclamation must be issued within thirty days. It does not make it compulsory for the governor to call an election within any specified time. The statute evidently intends that the governor shall have discretionary power in the matter of fixing the date of the election."

Governor Slaton received Thursday the resignation of Roscoe Luke, solicitor of the city court of Thomasville, who resigns to make the race for congress from the second to succeed Congressman Roddenbery.

Governor Slaton has not yet announced his preference in the matter of filling Solicitor Luke's place. A movement has been started to have the governor appoint Irving McIntire, of Thomasville.

Many Want Place.

The race in the second is warming up. Colonel E. E. Cox, of Camilla, and Roscoe Luke, of Thomasville, have come out with announcements. Others mentioned as possible candidates are Senator E. L. Smith, of Edison; Colonel Jesse Perry, of Camilla; Judge W. A. Covington, of Moultrie; J. L. Hand, of Pelham; Judge J. R. Pottle, of the court of appeals; W. W. Banks, of Tifton; Judge Frank Park, of Albany; H. M. McIntosh, of Albany; Claude Peyton, of Worth; Judge H. W. Hopkins, of Thomas; Colonel John E. Donaldson, of Bainbridge; Judge W. M. Spence, of Camilla, and Sam S. Bennett, of Albany.

PETITION OF TRUST CO. GRANTED BY PARDEE

The Old Colony Trust company, of Boston, trustee for the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, has been granted an order referring to Special Master Victor L. Smith the question of the apportionment of the $300,000 receivers' certificates between the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, the Georgia Terminal and the Alabama Terminal railroad. Judge Don A. Pardee granted the trust company's petition Thursday.

LEFT TO DIE IN DITCH BY JOY-RIDING NEGRO

Chauffeur Who Hit Dawson Man and Left Him Hurried From County by Sheriff.

Dawson, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—While joy riding early this morning in an automobile used wthout the owner's knowlerge or consent, John Dennard, 19-year-old negro, ran over and seriously injured W. H. Morgan in the public road about a mile west of Dawson.

Mr. Morgan, who lives here, was going to the country. Seeing Dennard rapidly approaching, he stepped out of the road, but the machine hit him, knocking him to a ditch.

Dennard did not slacken speed, but kept going. Returning soon afterwards, he would not stop, although Mr. Morgan was lying by the roadside, begging for help.

Dr. J. G. Dean, passing that way in his auto, brought Mr. Morgan home and gave him medical attention. The doctor states Mr. Morgan is painfully injured, but will recover.

Dennard has been arrested to await the outcome of Mr. Morgan's injuries. Public feeling against Dennard runs high, and Sheriff Hill decided tonight as a precaution against any possible attempt at violence to remove him from the local jail. The officer is said to have taken the negro in an auto to Albany.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends stomach misery, Indigestion in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

ALEXANDER IS MADE DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Takes Oath of Office Before Judge Newman—Succeeds Carter Tate.

In open court yesterday morning, Judge W. T. Newman presiding, Hooper Alexander, of DeKalb county, with law offices in Atlanta, and recently named by President Wilson as federal district attorney for the northern district of Georgia, qualified for the discharge of his duties when the oath of office was administered to him by Jon Dean Steward, deputy clerk of the United States district court.

After court had convened Carter Tate, for eight years district attorney, presented Mr. Alexander to Judge Newman. Mr. Tate referred to the pleasant relations that have always existed between the judge and the court and all its officials and himself during the past eight years, and expressed as his sincere wish that his successor would fall heir to the same generous treatment he had received.

Deputy Clerk Steward then administered the oath of office to Mr. Alexander, who said that he recognized the difficult task that he had undertaken and declared he would appreciate all help that might be given him by the court and its officials.

From the courtroom Messrs. Tate and Alexander retired to the district attorney's office, when the keys to those apartments were given over.

TWO BEARS KILLED ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF CENTRAL CITY

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—If big game is all T. R.'s looking for there is no need for him to go all the way to South America when he can find plenty of it right here in Georgia. There was exhibited on the streets of Macon this afternoon a black bear weighing 250 pounds, which was caught this morning on the plantation of Merrit Birdsong, five miles below Macon, in the Ocmulgee river swamps.

Bears have recently devoured several acres of Mr. Birdsong's corn and in desperation he bought a thirty pound steel trap in Macon and set it yesterday. This morning when he went to see what he had caught he found that the bear had gnawed the pole to which the trap was fastende in two and had taken the trap away with him. Four miles further down the river the bear was located and killed.

Day before yesterday Mr. Birdsong shot and killed a bear even larger than the one he got today. The first bear weighed 325 pounds.

MEDICAL EXAMINERS NOW READY FOR WORK

First Examination of Applicants for Medical Licenses to Be Held October 15.

The recently appointed members of the board of medical examiners appointed by Governor Slaton have taken their oaths of office and on Thursday were organized in the house chamber as follows:

J. W. Palmer, Alley, Ga., president; G. Fleming, Waycross, vice president, and C. T. Nolan, Marietta, secretary and treasurer. The other members of the board are C. E. Payne and R. H. Hinman, Atlanta; A. F. White, Flowilla; N. Peterson, Tifton and O. B. Walker, oBwman.

Governor Slaton was informed of the illness of Dr. F. M. Ridley, of LaGrange, who was unable to be present to take the oath.

The board announced that the first examination of applicants for licenses to practice medicine will be held on October 15.

"LEAD PIPE CINCHES," HE TERMS RAILROADS

New York, October 2.—The Eastern railroads today concluded the direct presentation of their evidence offered to refute the testimony already given on behalf of the 80,000 trainmen and conductors whose demand for increased wages is being arbitrated by the federal board appointed under the Newlands act. Summing up will begin tomorrow and continue next week, when the proceedings will be expedited by holding longer hearings each day.

John G. Walber, a vice-president's assistant on the Baltimore and Ohio, was the road's final witness today. He cited cases of railroads transporting employees free of charge to and from their homes in order to get them to points of employment. During discussion as to responsibility of railroads in this matter, A. B. Garretson, representing the trainmen, described the roads as "lead pipe cinches" and not public utilities.

"Railroading has passed out of that class of business,' Sth Low, chairman of the arbitration board, declared. "They are now public utilities."

"Before the interstate commerce commission was formed railroads were speculative enterprises," replied Mr. Garretson, "but since the commission has stepped in they are no longer that; they are 'lead pipe cinches.'"

FLOODS IN SOUTHWEST REPORTED SUBSIDING

Dallas, Texas, October 2.—Flood conditions in southwest Texas and western Louisiana showed improvement with the cessation of rain in some sections today. The rise in most of the streams which have been out of bounds has checked, and at San Antonio the river began to fall as unexpectedly as it rose.

From the interior came encouraging reports that streams were falling, and several days of fair weather will relieve conditions greatly.

It is in the rice fields of eastern Texas and western Louisiana that the heaviest loss will be felt. Near Lake Charles, La., it is estimated that 75,000 acres have been flooded, entailing serious damage. Railroads have been hard hit, many steel bridges havt been washed away, and thousands of yards of track destroyed. Connection with the east is still interrupted.

Improvement was made today in telegraph and telephone communication, hard hit, many steel bridges have been restored. The lumber industry has sustained heavy damage in the loss in production and damage to plants.

Despite the large amount of territory flooded in thickly inhabited sections, only eight persons are known to have been drowned.

FATHER OF 8 APPEALS FOR FATHER'S DAY

Washington, October 2.—Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania, the father of eight children, introduced in the house a resolution designating the first Sunday in June as "Fathers' Day," with the rose as its emblem. Mr. Moore said the resolution was introduced at the suggestion of Charlotte E. Kirkbridge, and Carrie B. Sternbeng, of Philadelphia, who have obtained a charter for Fathers' Day under the laws of Pennsylvania.

The resolution would not make the day a legal holiday.

Many a Man May Be Innocent Whom the World Thinks Guilty

--- Judge Arthur Powell

MAXIMS OF A JUDGE FOR YOUNG LAWYERS

Preserve your ideals and retain your self-respect.

If you're in life for money-making, keep out of the law.

Nothing will give you higher standing at the bar than the conviction that you are always in the right.

When you get into a case that you find is not meritorious, get out of it.

I have heard all my life about lawyers being liars, but I think you will find it is very seldom that a member of the bar is half as dishonest as his client.

No matter how attractive a woman may be, don't let her inveigle you into taking a dishonest case.

By J. Walter LeCraw.

That many a man condemned by the court and by public opinion is, if the truth were known, an innocent man, was the declaration that formed the climax yesterday afternoon to an address by Judge Arthur G. Powell, late of the Georgia court of appeals, at the opening of the Atlanta Law school. The statement was contained in the midst of an impassioned plea for a higher standard of ethics in the law profession.

"I have seen a man's honest testimony completely turned around by the questions fired at him by an attorney," said Judge Powell. "By the tricks of unscrupulous lawyers evidence has time and time again been put into a false light, so that not only the jury, but the general credulous public, is brought to believe a man guilty when he is in truth innocent of the crime.

"Let me appeal, therefore, to you young men to be honest, above all things else in your profession. Never accept a case that you do not feel is right, and when you do get a case that you find not meritorious, get out of it. Tell the truth at all times. Play fair and square with your opponent. Strive always to preserve the ideals of your profession and to 'press onward to the prize of the high calling.'"

Inspiration in the Law.

Nearly a hundred embryo lawyers who are entering the law school and others among last year's graduates heard Judge Powell's lecture with interest.

Judge Powell has been given an honorary degree by the Atlanta Law school, and he was introduced to his audience Thursday by Hamliton Douglas, the dean, as "the only man who has been accorded that honor by this institution."

In his talk to the young men he was outspoken in his convictions, and he told in gripping phrases just what there is in the law and what there is not.

"If your aim in life is to make money, stay out of the law," was the advice he handed to them. "As an avenue to wealth it is not to be compared with commerce or other professions. If you enter it with mercenary motives you will be a failure. But if you go into it with inspiration in your heart for the nobility of your calling, you will find a rare opportunity for service and success. The rewards of the legal profession, as I would define them, are as follows:

"First, no man stands higher in community life than the successful and straightforward lawyer.

"Second, in no other work is there such an opportunity for service to humanity as there is in the law.

"And, third, in the unfolding of a law career is offered the greatest incentive in the world for the development of self-respect.

World Wants Honest Lawlers.

"Of these three, the third is probably the most satisfying of all. The self-respect that a man gains through the honorable and successful practice of his profession can probably not be equaled in any other field. But above all things, preserve that self-respect which is the keynote to a man's highest endeavor.

"A vague idea exists among some people that 'all lawyers are liars,' but from a long study of the profession I can safely say that there is not one out of ten who has an actual dishonest attitude. They are often, however, drawn into dishonest cases by their clients, and then for the sake of money give up their ideals. I think you will find it is very seldom that a member of the bar is half as dishonest as his client. Preserve yourself from these influences and keep honest, and you will be an honor to your profession and to yourself."

NEGRO RUNS AMUCK AND THEN ESCAPES IN DENSE SWAMPS

Savannah, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) Eluding the county police and a posse, James Goodwin, the negro who terrorized residents in the Bonaventure road yesterday by firing upon several persons, escaped to the dense swamps this morning after an exchange of shots. The county police scoured the woods after the brief engagement with the negro in hopes of again finding him.

It is believed that Goodwin is wounded as several who have seen him say he limps. The negro was believed to be crazed with drink or drugs when he became violent.

Since that time several other negroes in that vicinity are showing the effects of having indulged in the same drink or narcotic. The residents are stirred up over the affair. Many of them have armed themselves expecting at any minute to be fired on from ambush by the negro.

Searches Runaway Son.

Tifton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—C. T. Kitchings, of Ashburn, was in Tifton today hunting for his 17-year-old son, Rietus Kitchings, who left home a few days since, accompanied by another boy named Wood. Mr. Kitchings' family are very anxious about the boy, and fear some harm has befallen him.

ASKS $25,000 DAMAGES FROM H. G. HASTINGS CO.

Mrs. Della Mosley Sues for Injuries Received When Struck by Automobile.

Mrs. Della Mosley, through her attorneys, Lawton Nalley and Leo Sudderth, has instituted a damage suit for $25,000 against H. G. Hastings and H. G. Hastings & Co., in the Fulton superior court, on account of personal injuries sustained by her on or about the 22d day of July of this year, when she was struck by their automobile at the intersection of Alabama and Broad streets in this city.

Plaintiff alleges that her head was cut, bruised, mashed and injured; her back was wrenched, sprained, bruised, mashed and injured; her nervous system was shaken, jarred and permanently injured; and that by reason of the injuries inflicted she has lost the power of locomotion; her right side is partially paralyzed; and that she suffers intense suffering and pain in the lumbarregion of her back and spine. She further alleges in her petition that she has totally lost her eyesight in her right eye and partial deafness in her right ear; and that she is a physical wreck and permanently injured and is doomed to be a bed-ridden patient for many months to come.

Randy Mosley, husband of Mrs. Della Mosley, has also filed a suit against the same defendants for $5,000 to cover his wife's lost services, and for nurses', physicians' and hospital expenses incurred by reason of the personal injuries sustained by his wife.

CRY FOR AMMUNITION BY DUBLIN STRIKERS

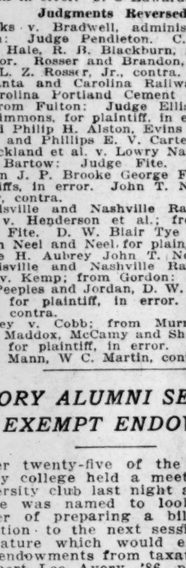

London, October 2.—Ben Tillett, secretary of the Dock wnarf, Riverside, and General Workers' union of Great Britain, addressing the International Syndicate congress today, said that he thanked Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster unionist leader, for giving the working classes a lead. When they had courage enough to follow his example, Tillett declared, they were going to fight the government.

James Larkin, one of the leaders in the Dublin strike, telegraphed from that city today:

"I appeal to all comrades to send ammunition and bring fighters here. The masters admit they are on their marrow bones."

CORPSE OF PLANTER FOUND IN HIS WAGON

Pensacola, Fla., October 2.—George Hamilton, a prominent planter near Grand Ridge, Jackson county, was assassinated last night. His dead body was found in his wagon today when his team was found wandering near his late home. Hamilton had been to the cotton gin some miles away, and did not get away until after nightfall. It is supposed that he was murdered for the money which he received for his cotton.

Philharmonic Orchestra Splendid Ad for Atlanta

"Cincinnati supports a symphony orchestra because Cincinnati wants the music," a prominent citizen of that music-loving city recently wrote the Atlanta Musical association. "But Cincinnati is also commercial enough in spirit to know that anything which keeps a city's name in the press of the country in a favorable light is a good advertisement for that city."

The remark is timely in that the first concert of the season by the Philharmonic orchestra is at hand. It will take place Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, at the Atlanta theater, and will be the first concert since the raising of a popular guarantee fund.

Colleges, conservatories and the musical public-at-large are expressing a gratifying interts in the event.

Bridge Tea.

Miss Willie Russell Law, a bride-elect, was the charming guest of honor at a bridge tea yesterday afternoon given by Mrs. D. R. Wilder at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue. Quantities of goldenrod decorated the reception hall, and in the living room, where the card tables were placed, there was a profusion of white and pink roses. The score cards were decorated with miniature brides.

The prizes were silk hose and a picture, and the guest of honor was given guest towels. Those invited for bridge were: Mrs. Edgar Perkinson, Mrs. Howard McCall, Mrs. Frank Lake, Mrs. Byron King, Mrs. O. C. Fuller, Mrs. J. W. Mason, Mrs. S. T. Marett, Mrs. T. A. Murry, Mrs. Lee Hagan, Mrs. DeLos Hill and Mrs. J. A. Broach. Those who played bridge were joined for tea at 5 o'clock by Mrs. Fred Law, Mrs. Sarah A. Law, Mrs. Foster Law, Mrs. Fred Tarnkee, Misses Daisy and Elizabeth Cheshire, Mrs. A. N. Lloyd, Mrs. C. G. Lippold, Mrs. J. L. Layson.

The table in the dining room was decorated with yellow dahlias, and the mints, cakes and other details were white and yellow. Mrs. Wilder was gowned in tan charmeuse satin, and Miss Law wore blue velvet brocade, and her hat, of black velvet, was trimmed with a paradise bird.

M'MULLAN SUCCEEDS FATHER AS TRUSTEE

Appointed on A. and M. College Board—Other Appointees Named.

Governor Slaton, late yesterday afternoon, announced the appointment of L. L. McMullan, of Hartwell, as a member of the board of trustees of the Agricultural and Mechanical college, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, A. J. McMullan.

Governor Slaton said, in making the appointment, that he was prompted by high regard and esteem he had for Mr. McMullan and his father.

The governor also announced the appointment of Judge C. P. Hansell, of Thomasville, as a member of the board of trustees of the old Soldiers' home, to succeed Captain John Trippe, who resigned.

Hudson Moore, of Atlanta, was appointed by the governor as a member of the board of accountants.

POTTS WILL FIGHT OWNERS WHO BUILD FLUSH TO SIDEWALK

Henry Potts announced Thursday that he would make a vigorous protest against persons who, in the future, built structures on Peachtree street between Ellis and Ponce de Leon less than 10 feet from the sidewalk line, as provided by a city ordinance passed by council on July 15, 1912.

When Mr. Potts secured his building permit for the construction of a three-storied building at Linden and Peachtree streets, six months ago, he was informed through the city engineering office that he would have to place his front foundation lines "10 feet from the center of Peachtree street," which made his lines fall 10 feet from the sidewalk. Mr. Potts complied with the request, but he declares that since that time several other structures in his near vicinity have been erected flush with the sidewalk line, this being an evasion of the city law.

Captain Robert M. Clayton, when seen Thursday, declared that "the ordinance introduced by Mr. Nutting, setting the Peachtree street front line, was non-operative."

"This law has never been enforced," he declared, "for the reason that it has never even been tested. The only way the city could enforce the law would be to start condemnation proceedings. We tried that in one instance and found that Peachtree property came high when you figured front footage."

City Attorney Mayson expressed the same idea as Captain Clayton, declaring that the law had not amounted to anything as yet.

HORSE'S KICK KILLS MOTHER WHILE OUT DRIVING WITH BABES

Thomson, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) While en route to Thomson with her three young children yesterday, Mrs. J. W. Blackwell, wife of a well-known citizen of Bussey, Lincoln county, was killed by a kick from the horse she was driving.

The tragedy occurred beyond Winfield, about fifteen miles from Thomson. The horse was going at a slow pace when Mrs. Blackwell struck him with a whip. At this the horse began kicking, severed two fingers from her hand and caused her instant death with a blow over the heart.

Mrs. Blackwell is a sister of H. A. Price, of this place, to whose home she intended making a visit on her arrival.

COLUMBUS WILL SOON HAVE ELEVEN BANKS

Columbus, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) The eleventh bank for Columbus and vicinity is now being organized. It will be a state bank, with $50,000 capital stock, and will be located in the Murrah building, immediately opposite the postoffice building. John M. Murrah, E. L. Murrah and associates are the organizers of the new bank. The new institution will open its doors in November.

A new bank is now being organized at Girard, Ala., across the Chattahoochee river from Columbus.

Of the eleven banking institutions in Columbus and suburban cities, six have been organized during the past dozen years.

About $2,000,000 is on deposit in the savings bank of Columbus, and hundreds of working people are represented among the depositors.

WOULD USE NEW FLAG AS OFFICIAL BANNER

Clayton's Blending of Confederate and Federal Flags Taken Up by Women.

In a communication to Captain Robert M. Clayton, of the construction department, Mrs. Thomas M. Owens, president general of the Woman's auxiliary of the Southern Commercial congress, which will meet this month in Mobile, has asked permission to present Captain Clayton's idea of a national flag, the details of which were published in The Constitution on September 21.

Captain Clayton designed the flag so that it would typify the binding ties of the northern and southern states, using as his motif the combination of stars and stripes and the stars and bars.

Mrs. Owens, in her letter, says in part:

"In The Atlanta Constitution of September 21 I found a description and picture of a flag which you suggest for adoption, should the present United States flag be changed. I am so pleased with your banner that I am going to ask you if I may present it before the executive board of the Woman's auxiliary of the Southern Commercial congress for ou rofficial flag.

"The work that this organization proposes to do is in thorough accord with the work being done by our national forces in behalf of material educational and civic development. The area of our activities, however, is confined to the southern states, and it seems to me, therefore, that out of a combination of the confederate flag and the federal flag, yours would be patriotically apropos."

Captain Clayton has been invited to the congress and asked to address the delegates on "Flag Placing Day."

COTTON MILLS GROW

Georgia Cotton Concern Lands $100,000 Job.

The three mills of the Georgia Cotton mills, of Atlanta, which were purchased at a bankruptcy sale a little more than a year ago and completely overhauled and equipped anew, have shown a very gratifying profit during the last year, according to the auditor's report, just made public. The report further states that the prospects for the coming year are good.

One of the mills recently closed a contract for $100,000 worth of its products with one of the largest jobbing houses in the world, said to be the largest contract ever placed with one mill by one house for this particular line of cotton goods. The mills employ more than 600 people.

On September 25 the annual meeting of the stockholders was held, resulting in the election of directors who in turn elected the following officers for another year: Clyde L. King, president; Bolling H. Jones, vice president; R. P. Shepard, secretary, and J. C. Brooks, treasurer.

HOBSON TO ADDRESS EDUCATIONAL MEET

The annual meeting of the Southern Educational association will be held in Nashville, October 30, 31 and November 1, according to an announcement received by State Superintendent of Education M. L. Brittain yesterday.

The program has not been completed, but it is announced that a number of distinguished educators will read papers. Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson, of Alabama, will deliver an address. His subject will be "Federal Aid to Vocational Education," a subject which is now engrossing the attention of the people and which is pending before congress.

BALLOTS FOR WOMEN OPPOSED BY GARDNER

Boston, October 2.—A new element was injected into the state campaign today with the announcement by Congressman Augustus P. Gardner, republican candidate for governor, that he was opposed to woman suffrage. The committee on resolutions had prepared a plank for next Saturday's state convention favoring an amendment to the constitution which would give the ballot to women.

Congressman Gardner said:

"Personally, I shall not vote for woman suffrage if the question is referred to the people."

METHODISTS OPPOSE CARNEGIE'S $1,000,000

Cleveland, Tenn., October. 2.—The Holston conference Methodist Episcopal church, South, today unanimously voted to endorse the action of the college of bishops and of the minority of the board of trust of Vanderbilt university in declining to accept an offer of $1,000,000 gift by Andrew Carnegie for Vanderbilt university's medical school. The resolutions express "regrets that the terms of said gift as set forth in Mr. Carnegie's letter were such that it could not be accepted with honor."

COPY OF QUAINT OLD PAPER TELLS STORY OF "WAR TIME" DAYS

Along about the time when "likely" negro families were sold at the corner of Mitchell and Whitehall streets, and when Cox & Hill ran a flourishing whisky house in a shack at Five Points, "The Southern Confederacy" was published by George W. Adair, Sr., father of Forrest and George Adair, and by J. Henly Smith.

In those days, Peachtree street was spelled "Peach Tree," and the Bank of Fulton, which afterward became the Atlanta National bank, once advertised for the recovery of a $5 bill, lost through the mails.

Thursday afternoon, J. Moreland Speer, of 18 Fairview Park, brought a bundle of these papers to The Constitution office. They date to 1862, the days of Jefferson Davis and the first confederate congress. They were found by Mr. Speer in an assortment of old papers which belonged to his grandfather, Dr. J. F. Moreland, of Troup county.

One of the most interesting parts of the aged publication is a standing ad for the sale of negro slaves, which was conducted at the time by Solomon Cohen at the corner of Mitchell and Whitehall streets. Cohen sold negroes by the family, and had a penchant for terming his goods "likely young negroes."

The ad is as follows:

"A RARE CHANCE. Seventy-five likely young negroes for sale by SOLOMON COHEN. I offer for sale a most valuable gang of negroes, young negro boys among them. An A-No. 1 blacksmith, brickmason, hostler, carriage driver and farmers. Several plow boys, a number of cooks, washers and ironers. Also several likely families. The above negroes are not sold for any faults. Some may be sold at auction on the first Thursday in October at the courthouse. They can be seen in my office on Whitehall street at Mitchell, between the hour of 6 and 8 p. m. Montgomery Adveriser please copy and send bill to this office."

MOTHER PUTS MATCH TO TURPENTINE POOL AND BABE IS KILLED

Thomasville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The little year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson was burned to death yesterday at Coolidge.

Some one in pouring turpentine out of a bottle had spilt a little on the floor near where the child was standing, and its mother, to get the liquid up from the floor, struck a match to it, first moving the little one out of the way. In some manner the child managed to get near the blaze, and its clothing caught, inflicting burns from which it died a few hours later. It is thought that a little of the turpentine was spilled on its clothing at the time it was poured out, as it caught so quickly from the flames and was so hard to put out.

Member of Sixth Living Generation Named After Wilson Gets Good Wishes

Whether or not Franklin Woodrow Chandler, the 6-week-old son of Robert Chandler of Cobb county, was "born with a silver spoon in his mouth," as the saying goes, at least he starts his career with the personally expressed good wishes of the president of these United States, which is considerable of a "getaway" at that!

The Constitution last Sunday published the remarkable story of this little lad, who represents the sixth living generation of his family, and with the story the pictures of the illustrious young man, his father and mother and seven living grandparents.

When President Wilson heard that this remarkable youngster had been named after him he instructed his private secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty, to send the following telegram to The Constitution for the youngest "Woodrow" in Georgia:

"The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.—The president appreciates the compliment paid him by Mr. Chandler in the naming of his little boy. Please convey his best wishes for welfare and happiness of the young man."

BEEF FROM ARGENTINA ARRIVES IN ATLANTA

The Kistner Market, No. 5 Broad street, received Thursday the first consignment of meat ever delivered from the Argentine Republic in the city of Atlanta. The shipment was made up of two carcasses, in three pieces, with a total weight of about 1,000 pounds.

The high cost of living will be solved to a certain extent should the use of this meat become general, declared Byron G. Kistner, proprietor of the market. Mr. Kistner stated that Argentine beef is of a higher grade than the usual run of beef raised in this country. He further stated that the pieces received from South America were nearly twice as large, and almost twice as good in quality as American-grown beef.

NEW CHURCH PLANNED BY MACON METHODISTS

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Macon may soon add another fine new church building to her already rapidly-growing list. The board of stewards of the Mulberry Methodist church, probably the largest protestant church in the city, has designated O. A. Park and the pastor, Dr. W. N. Ainsworth, as a committee to confer with an architect with a view of getting plans for a new church edifice to replace the present inadequate structure. If possible, it is desired to enlarge the present church rather than build an entirely new one.

GETTING RID OF MOLE, SHE LOSES HER LIFE

Baltimore, October 2.—Less than a week from the time she was to be wed, Ida Leibowitz, 20 years old, died at a local hospital two days after an operation, in which an effort was made to remove a mole from her face. Blood poisoning set in. The mother and fiancee of the young women are ill in consequence of her death.

Tabernacle Takes Census.

An enrollment of all members of the Baptist Tabernacle is being taken this week, with a view to obtaining the exact number of members of the church. A new system has been introduced by the new pastor, Dr. Lincoln McConnell, whereby each deacon of the church is responsible for a certain number of church members, the city having been divided into a number of districts and one officer of the church assigned to each.

The regular weekly rehearsal of the tabernacle choir will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Special music, to be rendered during the course of lyceum lectures, is to be practiced and a full attendance is requested by Director A. C. Boatman.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS TO DEBATE SUFFRAGE

Shall Women Vote, Is the Subject Which Will Be Argued Today.

The equal suffrage question has invaded the Girls' High school. Before nightfall tonight the question will have been threshed out in that institution, following the debate to be carried through this afternoon under the title, "That Women Shall Have Equal Suffrage With Men."

The debate also marks the initial appearance of the Girls' High School Debating club, organized since the school opened this year, and claiming in its membership over fifty of the pupils.

Those who will take part in this afternoon's depate are Miss Lily Harmsen, leader, and Miss Mersocolo Ball for the affirmative, while Miss Louise Youngblood, leader, and Miss Marion Morgan will appear for the negative.

The judges for the occasion have been chosen from the faculty of the school, and the entire student body will probably compose the audience.

Miss Harmsen said last night: "This marks our initial effort at debating. We chose the subject of suffrage as about as momentous a thing as we could think of at the present time. Of course, we shall touch upon all sorts of subjects before the year is out, but suffrage seems to me to be a paramount issue just now."

SUNDOWN MARKED END OF JEWISH NEW YEAR

Special Services Mark Close of Impressive Day—"Day of Atonement" Next.

The Jewish New Year celebration ended last night in Atlanta at sundown. The actual passing of the New Year's day was marked by special services, both morning and afternoon, in the city synagogues.

During the next eight days, or until October 10, the orthodox Jews will celebrate in a semi-official manner as their holiday season does not terminate altogether with the ending of their New Year day, but continues in a quiet manner until the "Day of Atonement," which falls on sundown a week from Friday. That day is spent in fasting and prayer, the occasion being the most solemn one in the Jewish calender and called Yom Kippur.

Services in Atlanta synagogues Thursday touched upon the holiday spirit solely. Rabbi Marx, Rabbi Levine and Rabbi Loeb delivered special lectures touching upon the New Year spirit.

Last night H. Joseph Heyman, superintendent of the Jewish Educational alliance of this city, delivered a lecture on "Charity and Justice" in the Washington street synagogue.

KEEPS WEDDING SECRET TO SAVE HIS BUSINESS

Milwaukee, Wis., October 2.—Declaring that his business would be ruined if news of his marriage were made public, one of the applicants for marriage licenses at County Clerk Widule's office today asked that his name be withheld from publication.

"I own a butcher shop and am coining money," he said. "There are more than 300 unmarried young women living in my neighborhood. Because everybody knows that I have money, the match-making mothers send their girls around to my shop with a view to getting me interested.

"But if they found out I was married they would get mad and boycott me and I would go to the wall. When I get married I am going to introduce my wife as a new hired girl."

Under the circumstances, County Clerk Widule agreed to suppress the man's name.

GEORGIANS WORKING FOR GEORGIA MARBLE

Washington, October 2.—Members of congress from Georgia, headed by Senator Bacon, called at the war department today and protested to Secretary Garrison against the award of the contract for the construction of the Lincoln memorial to the George A. Fuller company, as recommended by the commission of which former President Taft is chairman.

The Georgia congressmen argued in favor of Georgia marble for the memorial and claimed the lowest bid submitted at the recent competition in accordance with the approved specifications called for that material. The commission recommended Colorado yule granite.

Secretary Garrison told his callers he had not yet received the report of the commission and would give their claim consideration before awarding the contract.

GOOD RACES PROMISED FOR THE STATE FAIR

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—There is now no doubt about the success of the racing feature of the Georgia state fair this year. Secretary H. C. Robert has just returned from a trip to Memphis and Nashville, Tenn., where he attended both the Tri-State fair and the Tennessee state fair and while there he was given assurance that when the entry list for the horse races at the Georgia state fair closes on October 10, there will be more horses than can be accommodated. Among those who have promised to send their strings to Macon are George Styles, of Rome; H. E. F. Jones, of Cartersville, and Abe Frank, of Memphis. These three say they will also induce a number of others now racing at the Tennessee fairs to come here.

C. T. WILLIAMSON HEADS MACON LABOR UNION

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Cliff T. Williams, former president of the state federation of labor, has been re-elected president of the Central Labor Union of Macon, this being his sixth term in that office. Other officers chosen to represent the Macon union are: First vice president, L. M. Seal; second vice president, S. E. McKenna; legal adviser, Attorney O. C. Hancock; secretary and treasurer, W. A. McKenna, (re-elected); trustees, A. W. Marshall, George Black and J. P. Kennedy; sergeant-at-arms, T. J. Copeland.

The Macon Central Labor union is to begin at once working out the details for the meeting of the state federation of labor in Macon next April. To this end President Williamson will hold a conference soon with officers of the state federation.

C. IMHOFF, INVENTOR, TO VISIT ATLANTA

Carl Imhoff, the German inventor of the disposal tanks now being used at the city disposal plant, will be in Atlanta Friday to inspect his product.

The tanks in use here are the first of the kind to be installed in this country. During his two-day stay here, Imhoff will be the guest of Captain Robert M. Clayton, chief of the bureau of engineering of Atlanta.

Warmth Will Cost More.

Boston, October 2.—Retail prices of all grades of coal were advanced 25 cents a ton by dealers in this city today. The dealers say the increase was necessitated by higher costs of handling.

JEWISH REVIEW TO MAKE ITS ATLANTA BOW NEXT MONDAY

The first issue of The American Jewish Review, to be published in Atlanta, will appear on Monday of next week. The publication is edited by Albert Herskowitz, formerly of Oklahoma, who has recently moved to Atlanta to establish the headquarters of his paper here.

An article on "Circumstantial Evidence and Capital Punishment," by Rabbi J. T. Loeb, of Birmingham, is calculated to arouse considerable interest because of the recent Frank trial in which circumstantial evidence played so considerable a part.

Among the leading articels in the current issue of The Review will be "Flowers for the Dead or Breaw for the Living," by Victor H. Kriegshaber; "Which Shall It Be, Orphans in Homes or Orphan Homes?" by Ralph A. Soan, superintedent of the Atlanta Hebrew Orphans' home; "Curious Jews of Turbulent Balkans," by Felix Koch, of Cincinnati; "Intermarriage and Baptism," by Felix Ellasoff.

GOING TO KNOXVILLE?

Some 500 Atlantans There on "Atlanta" Day.

More than 500 people from Atlanta will attend "Atlanta Day" at the National Conservation exposition, at Knoxville, October 7, according to the statement of E. Walter Tripp, chairman of the committee appointed by the drum corps of the Fraternal Order of Eagles to co-operate with the chamber of commerce committee in arranging for the Atlanta delegation.

Mr. Tripp, since his appointment as chairman of this committee, has been canvassing the city and says that he finds a great deal of interest in the trip and that there is every reason to believe that Atlanta will send an aggregation which will wake up the Tennessee city.

Mr. Tripp thinks that at least 250 members of the Eagles will go and equally as many members of the chamber of commerce and other citizens.

Mr. Tripp's committee will confer from time to time with the chamber of commerce committee, of which Colonel Robert J. Lowry is chairman.

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST CHANGE CONSTITUTION

Toronto, Ont., October 2.—After a heated debate which developed over a proposed change in the constitution, providing for a delegate's convention of the church which was opposed as tending toward ecclesiasticism, the annual assembly of the Disciples of Christ late last night adopted a resolution disclaiming a desire to make the change binding upon the constitu-

TABERNACLE TO RUN NURSERY ON SUNDAYS

Starting next Sunday, the Baptist Tabernacle will conduct a day nursery on Sundays for the benefit of mothers whose youngsters are too small to be left by themselves. The nursery will be in charge of a competent corps of young women, and mothers have been cordially invited to leave their babies in the care of the nurses during services.

Speed Law in Thompson.

Thomson, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) Mayor Johnson is rigidly enforcing Thomson's automobile speed law. The police are on the lookout, and anyone caught "speeding" over 8 miles an hour within the city limits will receive a shock of $25 and costs.

MOTHER MIGHT NOT BE LIVING

Lady Tells of Mother's Troubles, Which Almost Resulted in Death, And How They Were Overcome.

Cumberland Gap, Tenn.—"I don't believe my mother would be living today," writes Mrs. Sarah I. Owens, of this place, "if it had not been for Cardui, the woman's tonic.

She suffered dreadfully for years, with womanly troubles; smothering spells, chills, fluttering of the heart, and weakness.

Finally, she was advised by a friend to try Cardui, the woman's tonic. She bought a bottle, and could notice its good effects from the first. She has now taken six bottles, and is enjoying very good health. It has done her more good than all the other medicines she ever took.

We think Cardui is worth its weight in gold."

The very best endorsement any preparation can have, is that of people who have tried it. They know what it will do. Judging from the thousands of letters we receive each year, similar to the above, it is easily possible to believe in the good that Cardui has done for suffering women in its past half century of wonderful success.

Cardui is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which act in a gentle, natural manner, on the weakened womanly organs, thereby building them back to new strength and health.

You cannot go wrong trying Cardui for your troubles.

Raise $25,000 for Church.

Cordele, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—In an attempt to raise a fund of $25,000 with which to construct a new church building before the contract for the work is let, the Baptist denomination of Cordele have practically accomplished a purpose that is unequaled in the history of modern church building. The full $25,000 was subscribed some months ago, payable on October 1, and over $20,000 of the fund is now in hand, approximately $9,000 having been paid in before the date of maturity.

Yellow Jackets Looking Formidable

Edited By DICK JEMISON

WHIFFS

Wholesome Fear.

YOU MENTION Georgia and her football team to a Tech man and he looks askance. You mention Tech and her football team to a Georgia man and he does the same thing. The players, coaches, students and alumni of both schools have a wholesome fear and respect of the prowess of the other fellow and having seen both in action it is our candid opinion that they have a right in feeling that way.

Some Battle.

ALONG this line it might be in keeping to tell the general run of football fans in Atlanta, those who have no leaning towards either side, that they are going to see a real football game this season between these two schools. On the form they have exhibited in their practices thus far, there is very little to choose between the two.

Their Real "Bull."

THE EXECUTIVE committee of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association, which met in Atlanta last Saturday committed a grave blunder when they asked the presidents of Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia to investigate the rumors and reports that some members of the football teams of the two schools were ineligible to play and put the matter up to the school's heads to find it out and act accordingly.

General Cleaning.

THEIR INTENTIONS were good, but they did not go at it in the proper way. It was all right to insist on a house cleaning, but why pick out the two schools, such intense rivals in all branches of athletics. Why wasn't the order or suggestion or whatever you care to call it made a general one to all the presidents of all the colleges in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association.

Created Feeling.

THIS MOVE created hard feeling in Atlanta and in Athens and justly so. Both schools resented the attitude of the committee, which was one of technically prejudging them guilty.

The Impression.

THE GENERAL public got the impression from this meeting that some Georgia man protested some Tech man and the reverse. "They're fighting again," is the way we heard a disinterested party express it the other day, and such an impression is a hindrance to the schools and the great game itself. It was unfair that the order should be made to these two schools' heads alone. It is human to see always the strife in everything and this order certainly made everyone see it that way.

The Real Point.

FOR THE SAKE of argument, we'll say that Auburn has a man down there who is ineligible. If we were Mike Donahue, when the order requesting the Tech and Georgia heads to clean house was made, we would lean back in our chair and laugh up our sleeve, realizing that in the excitement occasioned by such an order that our ineligible man would be overlooked and no worry would wrinkle our brow. And every other school would do the same thing. If it was not so serious, it would be a joke, looking at it through the eyes of the other S. I. A. A. teams.

No Protests Made.

WHETHER Georgia or Tech have any ineligible men on their football teams we do not know. What we want to see is good, clean football conducted on clean sportsmanship lines without any inferences in advance. We do not think either team has a man who is not bona fide student and entitled to play. And furthermore, if there is any questionable man on the teams, the protests will not be made by the two rivals. They must come from other sources.

For Future Guide.

IN THE FUTURE, gentlemen of the executive committee of the Southern intercollegiate Athletic association, when you have got any ineligibility orders to issue, make them general and if there are any specific cases called to your attention include them in your order and let the entire world know. The secrecy of the order made here last Saturday produced exactly the opposite effect. Instead of relieving the college heads from any embarrassment in having the men exposed, by the veiled insinuations the order carried, they were left open to criticism from some and made the laughing stock of others who may have men not as eligible as the men you had in mind, but whose names were not mentioned.

A Suggestion.

THE GEORGIA Tech game this fall is going to be a wonderful affair and it is going to be largely attended. In fact, there ought to be the greatest crowd that ever attended a football game in Atlanta on hand. As a suggestion. Why not play this game at Ponce de Leon? Grant field is ample so far as space is concerned. But the seating capacity is too limited to stage such a game. We understand that Georgia is willing to play anywhere. How about Tech? Ponce de Leon is the place.

Analysis of Playing Strength Of the World's Series Rivals On Their Work This Season

EDITOR'S NOTE—Under this head, The Constitution will run a series of articles written by the official statistician of the American league, comparing the work of the rivals in the world's series.

7. THE RIVAL CATCHERS.

By Irwin M. Howe.

Having discussed the outfields, infields and pitchers, we now turn our attention to the men who hold down the thankless job behind the log. Without the clever co-operation of the catchers the number of star pitchers would be surprisingly reduced.

The batting average for the season of the five catchers discussed herein are shown herewith. It is seen that Myers leads the other four by a wide margin. Thomas and McLean have been hitting at their true form. This being Shang's first season, his average looks good. Lapp, a strong hitter in former years, has fallen off unaccountably this season.

Players	G.	AB.	R.	H.	P.C.
Myers	113	357	37	110	.308
McLean	71	216	7	60	.278
Thomas	21	53	3	15	.283
Schang	75	262	24	53	.261
Lapp	80	221	22	51	.231

These averages include games of Wednesday, September 24.

Good Catchers.

Both New York and Philadelphia are well equipped with maskmen. John Meyers comes near being the best all-around backstop in the game today, and will do all the receiving for the Giants unless injured, and for an opposing player to take chances on injuring this Indian is practically the same as trying to knock the Brooklyn bridge. Reinforced by McLean, Wilson and Hartley, the quality and condition of his catching staff are the least of Manager McGraw's troubles.

With Thomas, Lapp and Schang all in line for duty, it is uncertain who will be chosen by Manager Mack to carry the world's series burden for Philadelphia. In previous years Thomas has always caught Bender and Plank, while Lapp worked with Coombs. Now, with Coombs out, Thomas showing signs of wear, and Schang doing sensational work, the old order of assignments must necessarily be changed.

Lapp and Schang are probably equal to Meyers as backstops, but are away below the New York man in swinging the war club. Thomas is not as good as he was two years ago, but he and Bender, or Plank and he work together like a pair of shears. Whichever of these three dons the mask and pad the position will be well handled, but taking into consideration Meyers' hitting, the Giants have a shade the best of the catching.

Base stealing is not likely to cut much of a figure in the final result of these games. All the New York pitchers and three of the Athletics' keep the runners hugging the bags closely, and, under such conditions, any of the catchers named will do the rest. They will flag at least two out of three attempts, and that is discouraging where every run counts. In the 1911 series there were just eight bases stolen in six games, two each by Doyle, Herzog, Collins and Barry. That record is not likely to be exceeded this year.

Some Other Eligibles.

This series would not be complete without a few words concerning several players whose names are on the eligible list, but who have been given no mention here.

Jack Coombs, who, under most managers, would have been as necessary to the success of the Athletics as bats and balls, has only appeared in the Philadelphia line-up once or twice this season. What a frightful hole his absence left in the defense can be guessed at when one is reminded that the Colby iron man won three out of four games from the Cubs in 1910, and won the third victory for the Athletics from Mathewson in 1911.

There seems to be no possible chance for him to recover from his season's long disability in time to enter against New York.

Lavan or Orr, substitute infielders, have not done enough work to enable one to get a line on their ability or lack of it. In no event will either appear unless at least three of the regulars are injured.

Wyckoff and Pennock are the two Athletic pitchers that are also very unlikely starters.

Harry Wavis, former captain and present assistant manager, will probably take his old position at first base if any of the regular quartet are out of the game for any reason.

Dan Murphy may also hit for some pitcher in a pinch. The chances are very faint for any of these taking any important part in the series.

Harry McCormick and young Cooper are the substitute outfielders of the New York team. Wilson and Hartley are the third and fourth catchers, and Schupp and Wiltse, pitchers, complete the roster of the Giants, who have had any hand whatever in winning the pennant.

They all have the same chance of breaking into the box scores as the Athletic subs, that is none at all. McCormick is the single exception. He will very probably be called upon to hit, and has a praiseworthy habit of delivering in the time of need.

The final article of this series will appear tomorrow, and will be a summary of the strong points of both teams.

Low Scores Are Predicted Luck Will Decide Outcome Even Money Is General Odds

New York, October 2.—Opinion regarding the outcome of the world's series appears to be unusually divided this year. Prominent baseball players and writers are predicting a very close series of games with low scores predominating. All speak of the luck or break of the game being an important factor in the ultimate winning of the championship.

The same situation has developed in the betting. Outside of the home cities of the two competing clubs, the wagering is at even money. In Philadelphia the Athletics are slight favorites over the New York team, and here local supporters are quoting odds of 10 to 9 on the Giants to defeat the American league representatives.

Expressions of opinion on the part of the managers and players of other clubs are beginning to be heard here with the gathering of the advance guard for the opening game next Tuesday.

Naming Winners.

Among those who are favoring the Athletics are Frank Chance, Napoleon Lajoie, Clark Griffith and Umpire Billy Evans. Some of those who are naming the Giants as probable winners are George Stallings, Johnny Evers, Fred Clarke and Ty Cobb. Hughey Jennings and Bill Dahlen have stated that the teams are so evenly matched that the outcome of the series is a toss up, with luck playing a leading part.

A consensus among thirty of the leading baseball writers of the big league circuits shows that eighteen favor the Giants to win, against nine for the Athletics and three frankly undecided. Almost without exception, however, they qualify their predictions by stating that the series of 1913 will be very evenly contested, and that the slightest break of luck in the game will s wing the championship one way or the other.

The chief advantage accorded the Giants is their strength in the pitching department. The Athletics' adherents concede this point, but contend that the superior batting ability of the Philadelphia club will more than offset the slight difference in the twirling form of the two staffs.

Manager McGraw had all his world's series regulars, aside from Fred Snodgrass the "charley-horsed" centerfielder, in action today and in addition put Mathewson and Marquard, of the first line of defense in the box, through their paces.

Larry Doyle, team captain and second sacker, whose shoulder has been lame since he hurt it in an automobile accident last week, got into the harness in the second game of the double-header with Philadelphia.

Doyle failed to show all his wonted sprygness and ease of movement, but it is expected that he will have limbered up sufficiently by next Tuesday to take his accustomed place and play his usual dashing game.

A Significant Point.

It was counted significant by some, however, that McGraw did not put Larry in with the rest of the regulars during the first game when Shafer played second and Herzog third. The combination worked well, both at bat and in the field. But Shafer was back at third at the start of the later encounter and worked a while in that position with Fletcher, Doyle and Merkle—the infield that all along has been expected to man the inner defenses for the Giants in the battle with the Athletics and their notable infield combination.

It was in the first encounter that Mathewson and Marquard, one or the other of whom is likely to twirl the opening world's series game, were tried out. "Matty" possibly has been in better form this year, but in the four innings he worked the heavy hitting Phillies were able to score but once and would not have counted then had not Shafer made a bad throw to first on Magee, who later crossed the plate on Luderus' double.

Marquard had fine speed and control in the five innings he pitched and the only run scored for which his pitching was responsible was that in the sixth, when Lobert tripled and counted on Magee's sacrifice fly to Jim Thorpe. It was Thorpe's muff on an easy fly in the eighth which was responsible for the Phillies' third run.

In another double-header tomorrow McGraw will have plenty of opportunity to tune up his other boxmen. Tesreau and Demaree are expected to show in these games. The little manager was encouraged at the lively assault his regulars made on Chalmers' today, the Giants' hitting being hard and opportune.

San Francisco, October 2.—Ralph Rose, world's champion shot putter, is critically ill with typhoid at the home of a relative here. Rose was stricken suddenly last night.

PICKING THE WINNER.

I thought of Matty's master brain,
Plus master arm and all the rest;
I thought of Marquard's yearly reign
That stood before the slugging test;
I thought of Tesreau, Human Whale,
Of John McGraw's eternal science—
And then I gathered up my kale
And started out to back the Giants.

I thought of eyers, keen of eye,
Of Larry Doyle upon the spot;
I thought of Shafer on the fly,
Of Murray's peg across the lot;
I seemed to hear the lusty roar
That greeted Burns, without a flaw;
And then I thought I'd borrow more
And make a clean-up on McGraw.

I thought of Fletcher reaching out
To snag a base hit from the air;
I thought of Merkle's mighty clout
Beyond Rube Oldring's distant lair;
And then—within a sudden lull,
I thought of Baker, calm and set,
Of Baker with the bases full—
And then I thought I wouldn't bet.

GIANTS WIN ONE AND DROP COUPLE

Protested Game Is Played Out as Ordered, Standing Just Where It Stopped. Even Break.

New York, October 2.—The New York-Philadelphia game began on August 30 at Philadelphia and stopped in the ninth inning, by Umpire Brennan was completed at the Polo grounds today, Philadelphia winning by a score of 8 to 6.

"The longest game on record" was brought to a quick finish. Murray, of the Giants, who was at bat with one out when the game at Philadelphia was interrupted, grounded to Byrne. Meyers singled, but Grant who ran for the Indian, was forced at second by McLean batting for Snodgrass, and the game was over.

The Philadelphia players ran from the bench and danced in glee at the speedy decision in their favor of the long standing dispute.

The unique entertainment afforded by the playing off of the disputed game preceded a double header, the Giants winning the opener, 8 to 3, and Philadelphia the second 4 to 3. In the first game Mathewson and Marquard held the visitors safe while Chalmers was hit hard and went to pieces in the sixth inning. The second game was called at the end of the sixth inning on account of darkness.

A FAN'S PLEA.

The sporting editor is in receipt of the following card from one of the best fans in Atlanta. We print it without comment.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Before the big show is all over and the tents torn down for the season, why not announce the need of more seats at Ponce de Leon. You have done as much to draw large crowds to the park as anyone and there is no doubt they would have been larger if there had been seats to accommodate more. The park owners should keep up with the progressive city and make seats for 20,000. It would only be necessary to fill them twice to pay for them, and they owe it to the public. Many people fail to attend on holidays because they do not like the idea of paying 50 cents to get in and then pay a dollar for a Coca-Cola box to sit on.

INTRODUCING PLAYERS FOR WORLD SERIES

EDITOR'S NOTE — Under this head The Constitution will give daily a brief sketch of the career of the players of the rival teams in the approaching world's series.

14. JOHN J. MURRAY.

John J. Murray, the star outfielder, whom the New York club secured in 1909 from the St. Louis club as a part of the deal for Catcher Bresnahan, was born at Arnott, Pa., on March 4, 1884, and acquired the rudiments of baseball while a normal school student at Lock Haven, Pa. He played professional ball at Corning, N. Y., and Elmira, N. Y., in 1904 and 1905, and was a premier while at Notre Dame university. He was engaged as a catcher by Manager McCloskey, but on account of his batting ability, was converted into an outfielder. He is of burly build, fast on his feet and a top-notcher in his profession, who is improving every season. The St. Louis club had turned down many offers for him prior to the deal with New York. Murray is good tempered, easy to handle, hard-working and ambitious, and these qualities, combined with his natural ability, make him a valuable man on the New York team.

MERCER TEAM READY FOR AUBURN BATTLE

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) The squad that leaves to do battle with Auburn next Saturday will be composed of the following men: Farmer, manager; Hardage, coach; Wills, Herting, Ledbetter, ends; Levie and Edwards, guards; Holman, center; Sams and Westmoreland, quarter; Stevens, Westmoreland, Simmons, Cochran and Newton, halves, and Parker and Nicholson, fullbacks.

Ford and Dunn, the two largest men on the squad and who were showing up fine on the 'varsity, are out of the game for the season; Ford with appendicitis and Dunn for not having a sufficient number of units. This is a hard blow to the line for these men were heavy, fairly fast and very aggressive.

While the team does not expect a victory they intend to fight hard and give a good account of themselves. The chances are 10 to 1 that it won't be a runaway for Auburn as last year's game was.

Loeb and Patten in Uniform At Tech Practice Thursday; Play Against Citadel Team

Joy descended on Grant field Thursday afternoon and took charge of the Yellow Jackets' football squad, reigning supreme for the entire day.

Jene Patten, the sensational half back, was out in uniform for the first time in two weeks, and although he worked only lightly, he showed that with a few days' limbering up he will be able to jump right into the thickest of the fray.

But while Patten's return occasioned considerable joy, it was not a circumstance when a little square-shouldered, dark-haired player turned up on the field and got into action at once. This fellow answered to the name of Loeb.

Loeb's Presence Helps.

The snapper back bugbear has been routed. Loeb, for his weight, is the grittiest player that ever stepped on a southern gridiron, and despite his 155 pounds, which many would consider light for a center position, he will grab the snapping berth and swing on to it all season.

Loeb will probably be snapping them back on Saturday against the Citadel boys. The effectiveness of the entire Tech team will be increased fully 50 per cent with this 155 pounds of grit and fight in harness.

The line will be bolstered by the fight that he puts into the men alongside of him, and the backs will get off better by reason of the accuracy with which he handles the ball. Fumbles on passes will be practically eliminated with this fellow handling the ball. If there are any fumbles it cannot be blamed on the pass, but on the backs handling the ball.

Strong Line.

With Loeb, Means, Nance and Preas in that order, the right side of the line is going to be very formidable. In fact Tech will ask no odds from that source from any of them.

If Thomason returns for the other end, only the tackle and guard on the left side of the line will be really what one would term "green" and these fellows make up in weight and willingness what they lack in experience.

It really begins to look as if the Jackets are going to have a football team of promise. Cook, McDonald, Johnson and Patten give them a wonderful backfield. In fact, the only places where there will be any cause for worry in a light game will be the tackle and guard places on the left of Loeb and the boys filling those places are expected to rise nobly to the occasion.

There are two games on every afternoon at the flats. The varsity ties up with the scrubs and the second varsity lines up against the second scrubs or freshies. There are two football fields for the games to be run separately.

This is increasing the effectiveness of every man on the squad, as no one stays idle.

MOTORS BUZZ TONIGHT IF WEATHER PERMITS

If the weather permits, the motorcycle races scheduled for last Tuesday night will be run off tonight.

Chief interest will center in the performances of Flickenstein, the Denver boy, whose work in Chattanooga recently was the feature of the races there, and Arthur Chappelle, the world's champion motorcyclist, who will probably arrive this morning in time to get into tonight's meet.

A special race or two will be arranged for Chappelle not on the program below, which is the one carried over from last Tuesday:

First Event.

First Heat, Motordrome Purse (trial heats 1 mile, final 2 miles; winners and second man in fastest heat to qualify)—Swartz, Lewis, Fleckenstein. Distance 1 mile.

Second Event.

Second Heat, Motordrome Purse—Graves, Luther, Glenn. Distance 1 mile.

Third Event.

Third Heat, Motordrome Purse—Richards, Renel, Lockner. Distance 1 mile.

Fourth Event.

First Heat, Special Match Race—Flickenstein, Graves, Richards. Distance 2 miles.

Fifth Event.

First Heat, Billy Smith Sweepstakes (trial heats 2 miles, final 10 miles; first and second men in each heat to qualify)—Renel, Lockner, Lewis. Distance 2 miles.

Sixth Event.

Final Heat, Motordrome Purse. Distance 2 miles.

Seventh Event.

Second Heat, Billy Smith Sweepstakes—Luther, Swartz, Glenn. Distance 2 miles.

Eighth Event.

Second Heat, Special Match Race—Flickenstein, Graves, Richards. Distance 3 miles.

Ninth Event.

Final Heat, Billy Smith Sweepstakes. Distance 10 miles.

Tenth Event.

Third Heat, Special Match Race—Flickenstein, Graves, Richards. Distance 5 miles.

QUERIES ANSWERED

Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor the Constitution: What is Bisland's fielding and batting average with St. Louis?—W. P. M. About .950 and about .250.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor the Constitution: Does a player get an assist when he makes a perfect throw to first and the first baseman drops the ball?—W. P. M. Yes.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: What are the extent of the injuries of Doyle and Snodgrass? Will they play in the world's series?—F. H. J. Only slight. Yes they will play.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Please give the physical proportions of Hogg and Chapman.—F. H. J. Hogg weighs over 200 pounds and is over 6 feet tall, while Chapman weighs about 155 and is about 5 feet 10.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: When Walter Keating was drafted from Columbus hadn't he been recalled by Atlanta and become the property of the latter, thereby not being eligible to draft on account of Bisland's draft?—F. H. J.

He was recalled by Atlanta, it is true, but he was eligible to draft from Columbus as he had not been recalled fifteen days previous to the close of the season.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: 1. Did Tris Speaker ever play with New Orleans? If not what Southern league team did he play with? Where is his home?—W. M. S.

Speaker played with Little Rock in the Southern league. His home is in Texas.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: On account of the crowd back of first base, the agreement was made that only one base would be taken on an overthrow to that base. The batter bunted and beat the throw to first, but the third baseman throws the ball and it gets by the first baseman and the runner continues to second; the first baseman recovers the ball and throws it wild to second and the runner goes home. Should the runner have stopped at second, or was he entitled to go as far as he could on the throw?—T. E. C.

The first baseman pulled the bone, throwing to second. The baserunner had a right to make as many bases as he could after the play was made for him at second.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Who won the Army-Navy football game last year?—A. G. F. Navy 6 to 0.

GORDON ELEVEN OPENS SEASON WITH AGGIES

Barnesville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—On Friday afternoon at Summers' field, the football season for Gordon institute will begin with a game against the tenth district agricultural school. The boys from Granite Hill have already played two strong teams, Mercer and Georgia Military college, and although they lost both games, it is safe to say that they were greatly helped by these games, and on Friday will put up a stiff fight.

Coach Van Tassell has been putting his squad through a strenuous practice for the past two weeks, and hopes to have them in good shape by Friday. Only three of last year's team are back, and with a practically green bunch to handle, Coach Van Tassell has had to face a situation anything but encouraging. However, he has put in some hard work, and feels that the new men will come around all right in the game Friday.

Professor Paul Rosser, faculty manager, has arranged the following schedule:

October 3.—Tenth District Agricultural, at Barnesville.
October 11.—Boys' High school (Atlanta), at Barnesville.
October 20.—Georgia Military college, at Barnesville.
October 27.—Tenth District Agricultural, at Sparta.
November 1.—Open.
November 10.—Mercer sub-Varsity, at Barnesville.
November 15.—Tech High school, at Barnesville.
November 22.—Tech sub-Varsity, at Atlanta.
November 27.—Georgia Military college, at Milledgeville.

BROOKHAVEN CUP WON BY BACHMAN

By Hal Reynolds.

By defeating W. J. Gregory in the semi-final round, and E. H. Moore in the final, J. W. Bachman won the trophy which has been contested for for the past two weeks by the Brookhaven golfers, offered by the Capital City club.

The semi-final and final matches did not come up to the standard set in the previous ones, Bachman winning the former in rather easy manner when he downed Moore 3 up and 1 to play. Bachman has played a strong, consistent game throughout the tournament, and it is no great surprise that he came out victor in the first flight.

E. R. Austin came through both of his matches with colors flying, defeating J. B. Martin, 4 up and 3 to play, in the semi-final match and H. S. Graves in the final by the same score.

The play in the third flight is somewhat behind the other two, as only one of the matches in the semi-final has been played off, C. E. Sciple being returned winner over A. M. Schoen in the closest contest of the last two rounds, 1 up.

The other match in the semi-final of the third flight is the one between Hunter Perry and J. J. Ragan.

The results up through yesterday afternoon follow:

FIRST FLIGHT.
Semi-Final.

J. W. Bachman defeated W. J. Gregory, 7 up and 5 to play.

E. H. Moore defeated E. G. Ottley, 3 up and 2 to play.

Final.

J. W. Bachman defeated E. H. Moore, 3 up and 1 to play.

SECOND FLIGHT.
Semi-Finals.

E. R. Austin defeated J. B. Martin, 4 up and 3 to play.

H. S. Graves defeated C. M. Sciple, 2 up and 1 to play.

Final.

E. R. Austin defeated H. S. Graves, 4 up and 3 to play.

THIRD FLIGHT.
Semi-Final.

C. E. Sciple defeated A. M. Schoen, 1 up.

CONNIE MACK GIVES VETERANS WORKOUT

Philadelphia, October 2.—Only four and one-half innings of the first game of the series with the New York team with Manager Mack, of Philadelphia, intended should be used as a basis for putting his players in first-class trim for the world's series contests, could be played this afternoon.

While New York was at bat in the fifth inning, with the score nothing to nothing, a hard shower caused Umpire Evans to suspend play. In a few minutes the field was so soggy that the game was called off. A double-header between the teams will be played tomorrow.

For the first time in a week Manager Mack had his full strength in the field. All the members of his infield, McInnis, Collins, Baker and Barry, were in their usual positions. The outfield was composed of Eddie Murphy, Strunk and Oldring.

When Bender and Schang were sent in at the start of the game it was taken as an indication that they would form a battery in the world's series, and that they would probably be the men selected to do this work in the first engagement of the big series.

WINCHESTER
Rifle and Pistol Cartridges

It's the careful and scientific manner in which Winchester cartridges are made and loaded which has earned for them a reputation for accuracy, reliability and uniformity which no other brands enjoy. Winchester cartridge shells are carefully inspected before loading for size, length and conformity. All Winchester bullets are swaged by machinery which makes them exact in size, contour and density. Then the loading is done by automatic machinery which not only insures a uniform charge, but seats the bullet in the shell so that its axis coincides with that of the shell; hence with that of the barrel of the arm. These are a few of the many reasons why Winchester cartridges in all calibers are the most satisfactory on the market. Use the W Brand

Prestige and Advertising Values

ADVERTISING has developed so rapidly along the various courses of least resistance that fallacy after fallacy have had their vogue. Millions have been wasted in the discovery of their error. The most flagrant abuses, contradictory to good business principles and commercial ethics, have crept in and seemed to thrive.

But crooked advertising methods have about hanged themselves. Wildcat methods and questionable business devices based upon advertising, are curling up and disappearing before a national sentiment for honesty and conservatism. Advertising is very rapidly systematizing itself. Sound business principles are coming into their own. The advertising adventurer is finding no more easy harvests. The public is not gullible today. Studious analysis and the finest sort of conservatism in the expenditure of advertising appropriations are taking the place of reckless speculation. Advertising is very much nearer being a true business science than ever before.

¶ ¶ ¶ ¶

ONE of the phases of this reaction is the increasing aversion of advertisers to buying space merely on circulation statements. A few years ago, "How much circulation has your publication?" was invariably the first, and frequently the only, question a publisher was asked to answer. In order to answer it effectively and truthfully, as nearly all of them desired to do, he directed the entire energy of his operating organization to producing circulation figures, regardless of cost and of profit to himself or the advertiser. He was driven to that extreme by the advertiser.

In recent years the most skillful advertisers; those with the largest annual appropriations; those whose business success is the most contingent upon their advertising program, are discounting mere circulation figures. They are systematically gathering information from which to answer for themselves such questions as these:

What is the character of the publication?

What is its age?

What kind of people are its subscribers?

Over what area does its circulation range?

How does it secure and hold its subscribers?

Is its appeal to its constituency such as to elicit their confidence in its news and editorial opinions?

What proportion of the people it reaches are both by location of residence and station in life reasonably possible purchasers?

Is its management such as to give complete credence to its circulation representations?

Advertisers desiring to reach only certain classes are demanding even more special information, for the purpose of determining what mediums will give them the most responsive circulation, in relation to their particular advertising.

At the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, in Baltimore last May, there was a veritable outcry from national advertisers generally against unnatural increases in newspaper circulations, bringing with them inevitably increased rates. They demanded solidification; intensification of circulations within natural bounds; the minimization of waste; and the employment of only those methods of expanding circulation as will produce permanent readers among responsible classes.

¶ ¶ ¶ ¶

THERE are, broadly speaking, among the whites, no classes of people in Atlanta and Georgia in relation to newspaper circulation. In such cities as New York, Chicago and Boston, there are distinct classes, each sufficient to maintain newspapers of class appeal. For example, The New York Evening Post and The Boston Transcript, both excellent and prosperous papers, are read almost exclusively by wealthy and cultured people.

Here in Georgia everybody is pretty much alike. There is not much difference between any of us in dress, food, habits and sentiments. There is only a small proportion of very poor people and almost as small a percentage of people who are wealthy.

In evidence of this there are about 2,500 men in Atlanta who are members of one or more of the three leading social clubs. The majority of men in Atlanta of considerable means or income are members of one or more of these clubs. The entire population which they represent, on a basis of five to each family, is but 12,500, or 7 per cent of the entire population. If a newspaper reached every one of their homes it would have but 2,500 class circulation in Atlanta.

There are no stores in Atlanta catering to the wealthy classes exclusively. Fifth Avenue in New York is lined with them for miles. There are not enough wealthy people in the city to provide a profitable patronage to many stores carrying only expensive merchandise. Ninety per cent of the stock of Atlanta stores is sold to all classes. Most stores carry some lines of goods that only the wealthy can afford, and some lines that only the poor will accept. Broadly speaking, however, stores are not stocked for the classes, but for the masses, because the masses make up the great "90 per cent."

The same thing is true of newspaper circulation. Any newspaper of circulation running into the thousands must reach about the same general average of people as any other paper in the same field.

Consequently 1,000 actual circulation, the kind that is delivered in the homes, of one newspaper in Atlanta and Georgia among white people is, on that basis alone, worth about as much for advertising purposes as an equal quantity of any other newspaper.

¶ ¶ ¶ ¶

THERE is, however, a distinction that relates to quality rather than to quantity, which is responsible for a very great difference in circulation value in relation to advertising results.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly, by exhaustive tests, that all other things being approximately equal, the longer a publication has had the same list of subscribers and the better its standing with them the higher is its productiveness as a medium for legitimate lines of advertising.

This element is commonly referred to as PRESTIGE.

It is accounted for on two grounds. The longer a newspaper goes into a home the more it becomes a part of the family life. The reading of it regularly becomes a fixed habit. It is read thoroughly day by day. The more thoroughly a paper is read, for any cause, the more is the advertising read.

Instinctively people who read advertising, and nearly all of them do, unless it is obviously not entitled to it, give it the same general credence they do the news or editorial pages upon which it appears. If a reader has confidence in the dependability of his newspaper, intuitively he transfers that confidence to its advertising columns. The association of ideas is inevitable.

¶ ¶ ¶ ¶

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION was established forty-five years ago. It has always been the same general type of a newspaper it is today—conservative, clean, able, enterprising and progressive. Its circulation has had a gradual growth from a few thousand to approximately 50,000.

The average period of 1,000 subscriptions taken at random in Atlanta recently in a test upon another matter, was found to be ten years. Probably half of its present subscribers have taken the paper many years, some for twenty-five years and more for ten years or more.

A considerable part of The Constitution's constant increase in circulation comes through sons and daughters of old subscribers entering new homes of their own, with the paper as one of the first family investments.

The Constitution is referred to as "The Georgia Bible." It is a great Southern Institution. It stands for all that is best in southern life, both traditionally and currently. It has that prestige which goes with reliability.

It is those two factors, in relation to advertising values, more than any distinctions in the classes of people it reaches, which gives it a very high value as an advertising medium, and which more than offset mere quantities of papers distributed as the basis for circulation figures.

COTTON FELL OFF SLIGHTLY ON DAY

Market Broke Sharply When Condition Figures Were Read, But Prices Rallied in Late Trading.

New York, October 2.—The government's October crop report was followed by a very sharp break in the cotton market today. This report was the last official condition of the season and placed the crop outlook at 64.1 per cent comparing with 69.6 last year, 71.1 in 1911 and 68.6 the ten-year average. Local statisticians pointed out that the condition was the lowest for ten years with the exception of 1909, and claimed that, mathematically considered, it pointed to a crop of not over 13,000,000 bales, excluding linters, but the figures proved a little under the expectations of recent buyers and proved the signal for heavy general realizing of liquidation. Offerings were well taken on a reaction of some 25 or 30 points, however, and prices rallied 7 or 8 points from the lowest in the late trading on buying by spot houses, trade interests, or covering with the close steady at a net loss of only 2 or 5 points for the day.

The market had made new high records before the publication of the condition figures. The census report showing 3,237,851 bales ginned to September 25 was considered full, in view of unsettled weather conditions prevailing since the first of last month, but seemed to create little interest, and the opening was firm at an advance of 10 to 16 points in response to higher Liverpool cables and reports of further heavy rains in the southwest. There was considerable realizing in advance of the bureau, which caused more or less irregularity, but the market ruled generally steady, and prices were at practically the best point when the official report was published. Then December quickly broke from 13.97 to 13.71 and other months sold off in keeping, but offerings were checked by reports that New England mills were buying on the decline, and continued poor crop accounts from the southwest.

Houses with Liverpool connections were reported to be large buyers of October and December during the afternoon, and the unusually heavy Liverpool spot sales following yesterday's reports of labor troubles in Manchester attracted considerable attention during the early trading.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, October 2.—The cotton market maintained a steady undertone today, although frm the middle of the session on it was under considerable selling pressure from both sides, following the reading of the last condition report of the season on the growing crop, which proved rather higher than generally expected. Declines were not well maintained and bulls claimed that the market did not hold as large a long intrest and was weak technically as same traders, with bearish inclination, were contending. At the lowest levels of the day new buying for long account came in, apparently most of it from outside sources.

On the opening, the tone was steady and prices were 6 to 9 points up. The census bureau report on ginning of 3,237,851 bales turned out up to September 25 was larger than generally expected but caused little selling because of the strength displayed by Liverpool futures and the sales of 20,000 bales of spot cotton in that market at a strong advance in prices. Another sustaining influence was the heavy precipitation in Texas overnight. At the highest the trading months were 12 to 13 points up.

The condition figures of 64.1 per cent of the nromal, showing a loss of only 4.1 points for the month over the entire belt and a loss of only 1 point in Texas caused a wave of selling that put prices 14 points down, but toward the end of the day the market did better and closed steady at a net decline of 6 to 8 points.

CONDITION IS 64.1 REPORT ON COTTON

Government Figures Make Cotton Crop Condition 4.1 Per Cent Lower Than That of Last Month.

Washington, October 2.—The condition of the cotton crop of the United States on Thursday, September 25, was 64.1 per cent of a normal, compared with 68.2 per cent on August 25, 1913, 69.6 per cent on September 25, 1912, 71.1 per cent on September 25, 1911, 65.9 per cent on September 25, 1910, and 68.6 per cent, the average of the past ten years on September 25. This announcement was made at noon today by the Crop Reporting Board, Bureau of Statistics, United States Department of Agriculture, in its final condition report of the season, the condition being estimated from reports of its correspondents and agents throughout the cotton belt.

During the early part of the growing season this year conditions were favorable in the western cotton states and unfavorable in the eastern cotton states; as the season advanced, however, prospects declined in the west and improved somewhat in the east.

Until the latter part of the month which today's report covered there was severe drought in Texas, Oklahoma and southern Missouri, but this was broken very generally during the third week of the period, the heavy rains at points in these states as well as in portions of Arkansas were thought to have caused some damage to the open cotton. During the second week of the period high winds and heavy rains were thought to have caused some damage in eastern North Carolina. In that week the drought was reported as severe over much of Tennessee and portions of South Carolina while the drought in Arkansas was considerably relieved.

Comparisons of conditions, by states follow:

New York, October 2.—The bureau report was the main feature of the day at 64.1. It expressed almost the concensus of opinion of the members of the exchange. When the report was published there ensued heavy selling for both long and short account on the theory that it was probably the last official report of the crop condition and that, therefore, it was the time to realize. This selling brought about a decline of about 25 points from the highest prices of the year, with a steady closing some 5 points below last evening. We think the short interest has been increased today, while the buyers were the largest houses in the trade, we think after the report is thoroughly considered by both merchants and spinners that they will reach the conclusion that it is alone and in connection with the other reports of the season a forecast of a very moderate crop.

HESTER'S MONTHLY COTTON FIGURES

New Orleans, October 2.—Secretary Hester's New Orleans cotton exchange statement issued today covers the monthly movement to the close of September.

Compared with last year it shows an increase for the month in round figures of 192,00 bales, compared with year before last and an increase of 18,000, and with 1910, an increase of 447,000.

The total for September was 1,619,872, against 1,427,774 last year, 1,601,474 year before last and 1,172,775 same time in 1910.

The movement from September 1st to 30th inclusive, shows receipts at all United States ports, 1,260,125, against 1,103,879 last year, 1,257,883 year before last and 933,733 same time in 1910; overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 18,033, against 7,177 last year, 12,297 year before last and 4,533 same time in 1910; southern mills takings, exclusive of quantity consumed at southern out-ports 215,000, against 192,000 last year, 167,500 year before last and 143,000 same time in 1910; and interior stocks in excess of those held at the commencement of the season 126714, against 134,718 last year 163,793 year before last and 91,509 same time in 1910.

These make the total movement of the cotton crop brought into sight during September 1,619,872, against 1,427,776 last year, 1,601,474 year before last and 1,172,775 same time in 1910.

Northern spinners took during the month 167,697 bales, against 98,942 last year.

Foreign exports for September have been 838,379 bales, showing an increase for the season of 170,119 and a decrease for the same period year before last of 101,051 in foreign exports.

Stocks at the seaboard and the 20 leading southern interior markets on September 30 were 720,145, against 826,036 the same date last year, and 654,413 the year before.

Including port and interior town stocks left over from the previous season and the number of bales of the current crop brought into sight during September, the supply has been 1,946,289, against 1,792,487 last year and 1,888,448 the year before.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, October 2.—The market paid no attention to the ginning report this morning, although it showed 230,000 bales more ginned than for the same period last year, on the condition report of 64.1. There was a break of about 20 points, as the market had been educated to expect a report of about 62. On the decline there was very strong buying by spot and mill interests and the close was at a net decline for the day of only 5 points.

Liverpool is due to come 2 to 3½ up.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, October 2.—The bureau report as to the condition of the crop on September 25 was the feature of the market today, and it being somewhat more favorable than expected, liquidation set in which carried prices down about 20 points from the highest. However, it is probable that selling would have been liberal, no matter what the figures proved to be, as the feeling has been growing that 14 cents is a fair price for this time of year. Rains continue throughout the belt, which restrict the movement of the crop and encourage speculative buying on all declines.

Dry Goods.

New York, October 2.—Cotton goods markets ruled strong today. Men's wear factors reported a preponderating demand for worsteds instead of carded woolens for spring. Raw silk was easier and manufacturers bought more liberally for spring. Yarns were strong.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, October 2.—The condition of the United States treasury at the beginning of business today was:

Net balance in general fund $120,693,528.

Total receipts yesterday $2,379,295.

Total payments yesterday $2,109,302.

The deficit this fiscal year is $10,067,816, against a deficit of $7,627,409 last year, exclusive of Panama canal and public debt transactions.

London Stock Market.

London, October 2.—Money was in strong demand today. Discount rates were marked up to meet the bank rate.

The 5 per cent bank rate came as a surprise to the money market, and the stock exchange, but the appearance of the unfavorable weekly bank return showing the unexpectedly large decrease of over £4,000,000 in the reserve, made apparent the necessity for the protective measure. Consols decline an eighth and recovered the loss later, but Canadian Pacific, Rio Tintos and other Paris favorites which had been strong early all dropped on the increased rate and the uncertainties of the near east situation. The market closed irregular, with Brazilian bonds weak and Mexican rails in good demand.

American securities opened steady and a fraction higher. Fair buying appeared during the forenoon and stocks advanced under the lead of Amalgamated Copper and Canadian Pacific. The latter gained 2¾ points. Wall street selling depressed the list in the early afternoon, but prices hardened again in the late trading and the market closed steady.

Consols for money, 73 5-16; consols for account, 73 9-16.

Bar silver steady at 28⅜d.

Money, 3¼@4½.

Discount rates, short bills, 4⅝; 3 months, 4⅝.

Foreign Finances.

London, October 2.—After a prolonged discussion, the directors of the Bank of England today decided to raise the bank rate from 4½ to 5 per cent as a precautionary measure to protect the bank's reserve, which had been depleted by over $10,000,000 this week by exports to Egypt. The weekly consignments of gold from South Africa have been absorbed by the continent, where the scramble for gold continues.

The discount market hardly expected the advance today, in view of the firmer New York exchange, but it was recognized that some protective measure would be necessary in the near future in order to enable the Bank of England to get the gold arriving from South Africa and build up its reserve which has fallen much below that of last year. The higher rate, it is expected, will serve as a warning to other quarters to check their prospective gold demands.

BUREAU ISSUES GINNING REPORT

3,237,851 Bales Prior to September 25—Compares With 3,005,934 Bales to That Date Last Year.

Washington, October 2.—The second cotton ginning report of the census bureau, issued at 10 a. m., today, announced that 3,237,851 bales of cotton of the growth of 1913 had been ginned prior to September 25, counting round as half bales. To that date last year 3,005,934 bales, or 22.3 per cent of the entire crop, had been ginned; in 1911, to that date 3,676,594 bales or 23.6 per cent had been ginned; in 1908 to that date 2,590,639 bales or 19.8 per cent of the crop had been ginned, and in 1906 to that date 2,057,283 bales or 15.8 per cent of the crop had been ginned.

Included in the total ginnings were 27,324 round bales, compared with 19,574 round bales ginned to September 25 last year; 27,918 round bales in 1911, 38,028 round bales in 1910 and 48,070 round bales in 1909.

The number of bales of Sea Island cotton included was 10,555 bales, compared with 3,051 bales last year, 11,807 bales in 1911, 13,832 bales in 1909, and 11,457 bales in 1908.

Ginnings prior to September 25, by states, with comparisons for last year and other big crop years, and with the percentage of the entire crop ginned to that date in previous years, follow:

PRICES OF GRAIN PUSHED HIGHER

Wheat Rose on Predicted Light Receipts — Expert Opinion on Corn Shortage Sent That Grain Up.

Chicago, October 2.—Productions of a material falling off soon in northwest receipts caused a quick change of feeling in the wheat market today and pushed prices higher. Closing prices were firm 1-4@38 to 3-8@1-2 above last night. Corn gained 1-4@3-8 to 3-4 net and oats 1-8@1-4 to 1-4. Provisions were unchanged to 7 1-2 higher.

Shifts to the buying side of the wheat market came rapidly as soon as word was received that best posted people in Minneapolis were looking for arrivals to be extremely light after next week. Prices had started with an upward slant, owing to dry weather in Argentina, but the rise brought on vigorous hammering by short sellers and resulted in a dip under last night's level. Scantiness of receipts southwest formed a consideration with buyers at the decline and then the bullish conditions as to the spring crop movement were emphasized by greater activity among exporters at the Seaboard. In regard to the improved foreign demand it was pointed out that the rye crop of Russia was 175,000,000 bushels short of last year's total.

Estimates by an expert that ten million acres of corn had been abondoned and that the crop had been diminished to 2,100,000,000 bushels, caught pit traders badly oversold. The market which had sagged because of beet pressure and fine weather took a sudden upshoot and closed steady at nearly the top figures of the session.

Active buying by a leading house made oats firm. The trade app deraeot made oats firm. The trade appeared to ignore a report that 300,000 bushels of Canadian oats would be shipped from Fort William, Ont., to hCicago next week.

Provisions rallied in consequence of lively purchasing by grain houses and stock yards traders. At first business had been depressed mainly by the boarish showing of lard stocks.

STOCKS STEADILY CREEPING UPWARD

Canadian Pacific Gained 3 1-2 Points and Amalgamated Rose 2 Points—The Bond Market Was Steady.

New York, October 2.—Stocks crept upward slowly today. There was no urgent bidding and speculation was quiet with long periods of stagnation. But the undertone as the day advanced was firm and offerings were small. The market grew stronger after the opening hour. Canadian Pacific was marked up 3 1-2. Amalgamated, yesterday's leader, rose 2 points. Steel, Reading, Union Pacific and various other prominent shares were raised a point or more.

Influences which have been brought to bear in the market recently seemed to have worked themselves out and traders marked time pending developments to give fresh impetus to speculation.

Advance in the Bank of England's discount rate from 1-2 to 5 per cent was followed by a slight hardening in money rates here and a sharp rise in exchange on London. Virtually no influence was exercised on speculative sentiment. The Bank of England's weekly report offered plenty of evidence of the reasons which were responsible for the change. Although the proportion of reserve to liabilities remains considerably above the average for this season, the return was distinctly unfavorable. The loss of over $15,000,000 gold on the week was almost unprecedented and reserves showed a falling off of over $20,000,000. The Bank of Germany's report reflected the strain of the quarterly settlement in an increase of $121,000,000 in loans and discounts.

The bond market was steady. Southern Pacific collateral fours rose 2 points. Total sales, par value, $1,295,000. United States fours registered sold at 109 1-2; unchanged on call but a decline of 1-2 from the last actual sale, and a new low record. The twos registered declined 1-2 on call.

HE DROPPED $5,000 ON "SURE" HORSE RACE

St. Louis, October 2.—William J. Young and wife, of Brandon, Manitoba, today appealed to the police here to search for two men who had swindled them out of $5,000 which Young and his wife had bet on a "sure-thing" horse race.

Mr. and Mrs. Young traveled 2,000 miles to St. Louis to invest the money, which yesterday they turned over to the confidence men in a local hotel. After a fake fight, the men left the hotel with the money, promising Young and his wife they would return.

According to Young, he and his wife arrived at West Baden, Ind., ten days ago, and there met an affable man who introduced himself as C. H. Kleinfelder. While Young and Kleinfelder were walking about the town they met a man who claimed to be Mr. Rector, of New York. Mr. Rector confided to Young and Kleinfelder that he was a race-track bookmaker, and that because of his inside information he could make "big killings."

Kleinfelder professed to be skeptical, but Rector persuaded him and Young each to put up $1 and he would show what he could do. Later that same day, Rector gave his two friends $3 each—their winnings in a two to one bet. Mr. and Mrs. Young rushed back to Brandon, got $5,000 and went to St. Louis, where their money vanished.

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR TRAIN ROBBERY

Columbus, Miss., October 2.—Two white men, who gave the names of Lum Keller and J. W. White, were arrested here early today as suspects in connection with the Bibbville, Ala., train robbery. The men had boarded the Southern train at Alton, Ala., a small town east of here. Their actions aroused the suspicions of the train officials, who notified the local police. The prisoners claim to be miners on their way to Arkansas to find employment. They say they started from a point 10 miles from Tuscaloosa, and walked 25 miles to Alton. Keller admitted having served time in the Alabama penitentiary for murder, but both deny having any connection with the train hold-up.

WHITE WOMAN KILLED BY A NEGRO CONVICT

Ocala, Fla., October 2.—Mrs. P. L. Wilson, wife of a farmer living four miles north of here, was shot and killed this morning by a negro supposed to be an escaped convict.

The negro entered her house while she was alone. She screamed and ran, and he fired on her as she fled through the yard. Charles Luffman, a neighbor, heard her scream and ran to the Wilson house. He met and was shot at by the negro, but not hit. As Luffman was unarmed, he had to let the negro go.

A posse with Sheriff Galloway went from here. They found a convict's jacket in the house. Hundreds of men in automobiles and horseback are scouring the country in search of the negro.

PEACE PACT PLANNED FOR WORLD MERCHANTS

New York, October 2.—The New York Chamber of Commerce adopted today a resolution to place before the chambers of commerce and boards of trade of the world a plan for settling disputes between merchants of two or more nations without going to the courts. The plan outlined contemplates the insertion in contracts between merchants of two nations of a standard clause providing for the settlement of disputes by an arbitration tribunal to be appointed by a commercial body named in the contract.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

All the News of Real Estate and Building.

While Dr. E. L. Connally has not decided definitely that he will erect the proposed sky-scraper on his property at the southeast corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets, it appears a safe prediction that the building will go up shortly after September 30, 1914, inasmuch as all arrangements are being made to that end.

Plans for the building arrived at the Atlanta offices of W. L. Stoddart, the architect, on Thursday. As has already been announced, every tenant in the building now on the Whitehall corner has been notified to vacate by September 30, 1914.

The plans call for a sixteen-story building, with basement and sub-basement, making eighteen stories in all. There will be five stores on Alabama street and four stores on Whitehall. The building will front 84 feet on Whitehall street and 101 feet on Alabama.

The first published picture of the proposed building is presented elsewhere in this issue of The Constitution with details of the character of the building.

Peachtree Improvement Company.

With the object in view of securing the future of Peachtree road as an exclusive residential street, about twenty-five owners of property fronting on the road met in the chamber of commerce hall Thursday afternoon at the instance of Charles P. Glover, president of the Charles P. Glover Realty company, which controls the Brookhaven estates and other properties on and near Peachtree road.

These property owners agreed to form themselves into an unincorporated organization to be known as the Peachtree Improvement company, which will be in the nature of a mutual protective association among the owners of property fronting on Peachtree road all the way from Brookwood bridge to Decatur road.

In forming this company the property owners bind themselves to establish a building line along Peachtree road not nearer to the road than 75 feet. They also agree not to use Peachtree road frontage for the purpose of building hospital, sanitariums or business houses, nor for negro residences.

In all papers transferring any of the Peachtree road property they have agreed there shall be clauses restricting all future owners to the above-stated rules.

These rules are to become effective when 75 per cent of the property owners on Peachtree road have agreed to them.

The owners present Thursday afternoon represented the bulk of the property on the road, and they were practically unanimous in their indorsement of the restrictions.

Residence Property Sales Brisk.

The real estate market showed considerable activity in Thursday's announcements, which included a large number of sales of residence property and vacant lots.

These announcements are as follows:

Gov. Brown's Neighbor Sells.

The William A. Vernoy Real Estate agency has sold for J. W. Ferguson, who lived next door to ex-Governor Joseph M. Brown in Marietta, has sold his home on Whitlock avenue in that city, to L. A. Sewell for a consideration of $10,500. This sale also includes a parcel of 20 acres.

The Vernoy agency also announces the following sales:

J. L. Womack to E. L. Dennington, cottage at No. 32 Ferguson street, $3,150; James R. Ellis to Mrs. G. L. Adams, No. 54 Lena street, $2,000; Phoenix Investment company to R. B. Lambert, the northeast corner of Harding and Adams streets, College Park, $2,300; W. V. Ogletree to Robert Lozier Henry, No. 100 Clay street, $1,700; Mrs. Sarah D. Johnson to James R. Ellis, Nos. 22 and 24 Postell street, $1,000, and Mrs. J. H. Harbuck to the Phoenix Investment company, No. 104 Racine street, $3,500, taking in part payment a house and lot on Kirkwood avenue, near South Moreland avenue.

Broad Street Corner Improvements.

The sidewalks in front of the northeast corner of Broad and Alabama streets, which was sold several days ago to Mrs. A. W. Calhoun and Dr. Phinizy Calhoun for $170,000, were fenced off Thursday for the purpose of remodelling the building.

It has been announced that the purchasers will spend about $15,000 in improving the corner.

More Big Property on Market.

Two more important pieces of real estate are now on the market.

The more interesting of these is the former Gramling home at the northwest corner of Peachtree and Baker streets. This is the property of Forrest & George Adair. The corner underwent considerable litigation following a sheriff's sale, but this litigation, it is understood, has been settled and the property is for sale.

The other parcel is the W. A. Hemphill property, which fronts on Marietta and Foundry streets and the W. & A. railroad, which will be offered in a commissioners' sale before the courthouse door on the first Tuesday in November.

The property fronts 164 feet on Marietta street and 198 feet on Foundry street. The railroad frontage is improved with warehouses.

R. A. Hemphill, J. W. Mayson and W. F. Crusselle, commissioners, and Edwin P. Ansley, agent, will offer the property.

Bottenfield's New Headquarters.

About October 15 the L. P. Bottenfield real estate agency, now located on the tenth floor of the Empire building, expects to get into new and larger quarters on the eleventh floor of the same building.

Mr. Bottenfield's agency will take the offices now occupied by the Royal Insurance company, which concern will move into the Hurt building, where it has leased an entire floor.

The offices which the Bottenfield agency will have on the eleventh floor will consist of the northernmost half of that floor. This is the third time in as many years that the Bottenfield agency has had to seek larger quarters.

COLEMAN FOUND GUILTY; SENTENCED FOR LIFE

Eleven of Jury Selected for Trial of W. H. Stevens and Son.

Abbeville, Ga., October 2.—Life sentence was today passed on W. A. Coleman, the wealthy Wilcox county farmer, found guilty of the murder of Leon Melvin, a young man seventeen years of age. The defense moved for a new trial. Judge George will hear argument for the same on November 8.

W. H. Stevens, foreman for Coleman, and the latter's son, will go on trial at once for alleged complicity.

Eleven of the jury were selected today for the next trial.

The jury in the Coleman case was out all night.

AMERICAN BABY KILLED BY CHINESE BRIGANDS

Peking, China, October 2.—The American legation here received a report today from J. Paul Jameson, vice consul general at Shanghai, stating that an American child had been killed and other foreigners were being maltreated by Chinese brigands at Tsacyang.

The legation fears that the Chinese government troops are neither capable nor zealous enough to accomplish the release of the American and Norwegian missionaries in the hands of the bandits at Tsaoyang and that ransom alone can save the lives of the foreigners still in captivity.

It is believed that the ransom demanded may not be heavy, as Chinese ideas in monetary matters are not extravagant.

By the efforts of the American legation and consulates, the missionaries have been kept out of unsafe districts during the past two years, but they were not restricted from going to the northern part of the province of Hu-Peh, which hitherto had not been considered dangerous.

Nearly 2,000 Chinese troops are advancing on the town of Tsaoyang.

INDIAN SUMMER DAYS HERE FOR THE WEEK

The beautiful Indian summer days are to continue. The weather forecaster promises fair weather today and Saturday with light winds and warm sun. This promise means much to Atlantans just at this time of the year. Commercially it means large fall sales, large early profits and quickly moved crops. Ethically, it means that these days are filled to the brim with the joy of living.

For Saturday and Sunday the weather folk cannot yet foresee anything save the most pleasant of weather.

"If the conditions do not radically change during the next forty-eight hours, Atlanta will have a beautiful Sunday," said Forecaster von Herrmann.

Today it will still be cool but comfortable.

"PUTTIN' GREEN" FOR ATLANTA BURNS CLUB

The Burns club will shortly have a "puttin' green" at the Burns cottage, where the lovers of the Scottish bard and the bra' Scots of Atlanta can try their skill at one of the pastimes which has helped to make Scotland famous and beloved the world over.

The green is now being made on the brow of the hill at the southern end of the cottage. Inasmuch as there is but one hole, of course, it will not permit of a regular game of golf, but putting contests are expected to be pulled off at the Burns club green, which will decide championships among the Atlanta Scots and Burns club members.

SEED AND PET STOCK

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.

SEEDS, BULBS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES.

BOTH PHONES 2568.

IF YOU are going to fix your lawn up, you should do it in the next thirty days; seed sown now will get a good start before the cold weather comes. English Rye Grass sown on a Bermuda lawn will come up in a few days and make a pretty green lawn all winter, and last until the Bermuda comes out in the spring. For a lawn 50 by 50, five pounds of seed is sufficient to sow it. The price is 10c a pound. For a new lawn, we would advise using our Evergreen Lawn Mixture; it is composed of both winter and summer grasses, and, if properly cared for, will stay green winter and summer. This mixture sells at 20c per pound; $2.50 per bushel of 14 pounds.

SOON BE TIME to use Flower Pots. We have all sizes; also Saucers and Bulb Pans.

WE HAVE a beautiful lot of Gold Fish at 10, 15 and 25 cents each. Globes, 25c to $3.

CANARY BIRDS and Cages.

CHICKEN CORN, small grains, $1 per bushel.

HAVE YOU PLANTED some Narcissus for Thanksgiving blooming? They should be started right away. Our bulbs are extra large, and sure bloomers. 25c a dozen.

FEED CONKEY'S LAYING TONIC during the moult. It insures a quick and complete moult, and that means plenty of eggs during the winter.

RED COMB SCRATCH FEED, $2.35 per 100 pounds.

"SUICIDE" NOTE LEFT AS PARTY BREAKS UP

After Dining With Actresses Man Leaves Note of Farewell to Wife.

A merry party of three women—apparently actresses—and one man, sat at a table in the King Ying Low Chinese chop suey cafe at Peachtree and Luckie streets early last night. As the meal progressed, the man's spirits seemed to wane. He was constantly taunted by his companions about his air of despondency.

As the quartette arose from the table and prepared to leave, a piece of white writing paper dropped from the man's hands and fluttered to the table. A waiter reached for it and called that he had lost something. The man walked on down the steps and was gone before the waiter could reach him.

On the paper was written what is apparently a suicide note, addressed to Mrs. H. H. Elliotte and signed "Her husband, Bob." It reads:

"Dear Wife: I will say farewell to you and the world. By the time you get this note, I will be dead. May God bless you and keep you. Hoping that we may meet in a better land, I am your loving husband, Bob. P. S. Don't look for my body unless it be in the deep waters of the river."

The note has been turned over to police headquarters, where it is being investigated. No Mrs. H. H. Elliotte is listed in the Atlanta directory.

Physical Regeneration

¶ Did you ever think that city officials can materially lower the death rate of their towns if they would do it?

¶ So long as disease has a wide-open chance at your town neither you nor your neighbor is safe. And, if you can preveht it, you are criminally negligent not to try.

¶ Has your town a sewerage system? Is the lighting adequate? Is the paving first class?

¶ Somebody says it is wiser to spend time arousing town officials to do their duty than to spend it comforting the bereaved mothers whose little children are taken from them because of unsanitary conditions in the town.

¶ We think so, too. That's why we are talking to you after this fashion.

¶ We are Municipal Engineers with a record of more than 400 contracts carried out successfully without a break.

WOMAN SHAVE ARTIST IS OBLIGED TO PAY FIRST CUSTOMER

Rome, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—In order to get their first customer it was necessary for two women barbers who have opened a shop in North Rome, to pay him to allow one of them to shave him. He was a farmer named Henry Bubbs, living on R. F. D. No. 12; and he gave such glowing accounts of his experience that business was brisk for the rest of the day.

The suffragette shop opened this morning, and the only man employed about the place is the porter who sweeps the floor. Even the shine artist is a girl.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT WEST END CHURCH

Dr. Wood was received into the conference in 1859 and was widely known throughout North Carolina.

CONDUCTORS HAVE TWENTY-FOUR HOURS MORE IN WHICH TO WIN HUNDRED DOLLARS

LEADING THE FIELD

S. BENNETT.

The street car conductors of Atlanta have just twenty-four more working hours in which to make sure of that hundred dollars in gold which goes as first prize in the big contest which closes tomorrow night at seven o'clock, sharp. But is it only twenty-four? May not some hustling fellow decide that he can take a subscription to The Constitution at most any hour of the day, and now that the time is coming when one subscription may mean a difference in standing, work more than the allotted twelve hours a day, and may putting in six hours tonight after dark, make his time limit thirty hours instead and his final standing first instead of ——?

You will notice the picture of S. Bennett at the end of this story. Also, if you take a glance at the official standing you will see that he occupies the proud position of headliner in this all-star bill. That means that the man who wins the prize will have to beat out Mr. Bennett. Most of you fellows who are friendly competitors of his know his face well. Of course, you all like him because he is one of those good fellows that everybody likes from the jump but the question is "Do you like him well enough to forego the pleasure of winning $100 in order that he may get it?"

It is also evident that he is well liked by the people who reside on his route. He runs on a Luckie street car, by the way. And the people who live down that way appreciate his unfailing gentlemanliness well enough to back him up so that he stands in first place just two days before the close of the race. It speaks mighty well for every conductor who stands well up in this race, because it means that his regular patrons like him and appreciate his efforts to serve them well. Some of the business men are talking of sending in their subscriptions to their favorite conductors today. So we will find out who else stands strong enough to make a neck and neck race of this thing. The leading contestants are closely bunched and the way the finish looks from this angle it promises to be a repetition of the Southern baseball league race just finished. Everyone stands a chance until the wire is passed and then there is only one man who gets the hundred. But another gets that gold watch and another a new overcoat and another a new uniform and even those who don't win get commissions for all the subs they have turned in. Don't stop trying, boys, no matter where you stand until—Saturday October 4 at seven p. m., sharp. Not fifty-nine, but seven.

S. Bennett is leading the bunch this morning. That means that he has a mighty good chance to win the hundred dollar first prize offered in the Street Car Conductors' Popularity Contest. It also means that he is one of the most courteous, popular and best liked conductors standing on a rear platform today. We say, and he says, "May the best man win."

AT THE THEATERS.

"Robin Hood."
(At the Atlanta.)

Jerome Daley, who is singing the part of "Will Scarlet," the outlaw, in the de Koven Opera company's production of "Robin Hood," which comes to the Atlanta Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee is a pupil of George Kupfer, of Leipsic and possesses a basso-cantanti voice of remarkable evenness and purity of tone and wide range. His past performances on the concert stage are of a very high order. His ability in recitation is also noted and, with the possible exception of Mr. David Bispham's, his recitation of Longfellow's poem, "King Robert of Sicily," with the musical setting by Rossiter G. Cole, is unapproached.

Al H. Wilson.
(At the Atlanta.)

Al H. Wilson, who comes to Atlanta Monday night cannot compiain of the songs he sings, because if they do not suit him there is no one to blame but himself. Mr. Wilson composes both words and music of all the songs used in his productions. In his latest play, "A Rolling Stone," which is said to be quite the best he has ever had, he sings the song that has made a sensation in both Baltimore and Washington. It is called "My Little Climbing Rose." Other tuneful numbers are "We Are as Far Apart as the World is Wide," "The See-Saw Game of Life," and "Gagtime in Germany." Seats are now on sale.

"One Day."
(At the Lyric.)

There are times in the lives of men and women, no matter whether of high or low degree, when they receive a direct visit from that arrant knave, "Cupid." That is the concise and revolving point of interest of "One Day," which is to be given an elaborate production at the Lyric next week.

"Zeke, the Country Boy."
(At the Bijou.)

As predicted early in the week, the Jewell Kelley company is making the hit of their engagement with "Zeke, the Country Boy." Better pleased audiences have seldom gathered within the four walls of the popular Bijou and the attendance has been fully up to expectations. The matinee and night performances of today and Saturday promise capacity audiences.

Manager Kelley promises for next week the biggest scenic production that he has yet given patrons of the Bijou. The play will be "The Messenger Boy," featuring Eddie Black and Earl Higley in the roles of little vagabonds, Grit and his partner, Two-Penny. Great opportunities will be afforded for splendid scenic effects and the river scene.

ACTRESS AND JOCKEY ARE ORDERED DEPORTED

New York, October 2.—Marie Lloyd, English music hall singer, and Bernard Dillon, an English jockey, who arrived here yesterday on the steamship Olympic as Mr. and Mrs. B. Dillon, were ordered deported today. The singer admitted that she and Dillon were not legally married, but claimed that she had been living with him for five years as his wife.

The board held that the pair were "unmoral persons" and ordered their return on the first available ship. Miss Lloyd, however, retained as counsel Moses H. Grossman, one of the lawyers aiding Harry K. Thaw in his present fight, and announced that she would appeal to Washington. Pending decision on the appeal she will be held at Ellis Island.

$500,000 FOR MISSIONS ASKED BY METHODISTS

Cleveland, Tenn., Ocober 2.—Nearly half a million dollars is desired for mission work by the missionary board of the Holston conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, which is now holding its annual session in Cleveland.

Dr. J. M. Moore, of Nashville, secretary of the mission board, suggested this plan to the conference today. He said that if each of the 2,000,000 members would pay 20 cents a year it would be easy to raise $400,000 annually. But with the increase of a cent or two in the contribution it was thought that half a million dollars might be raised.

The general board of the Methodist Episcopal church has determined to raise something like the amount mentioned for missions, and the plan outlined by Dr. Moore was considered feasible, but no definite action was taken.

"Uncle" Ocie Dies.

"Uncle" Ocie Dickson, the faithful old negro servant in the family of Mrs. Richard Peters, on Peachtree street, passed away at 12 o'clock yesterday. The funeral will be held Saturday from the Big Bethel church, on Auburn avenue, and will be attended by many white friends of the faithful and beloved old man. "Uncle" Ocie, who was over 60, had been with the Peters family for more than forty years.

Joseph Burch, Athens.

Athens, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Joseph Burch, aged 62, well known in this section of the state, where he has been conencted with a farmers' supply house for many years, was buried this afternoon, the funeral occurring from the First Methodist church with every minister of that denomination in Athens taking part in the services. He leaves two daughters and three sons: Mrs. Walter Marbut, Miss Willie Burch, and James, George and Joseph Burch.

$30,000 Fire at Gallatin.

Nashville, Tenn., October 2.—Fire which broke out in a restaurant at Gallatin, Tenn., tonight at 10 o'clock caused a property loss of approximately $30,000, and for a time seriously threatened to destroy the business district of the city.

INJUNCTION DEFIED BY ENJOINED JUDGE

Ordered to Quit by Supreme Court, Judge Humphries Proceeds to Sentence Many.

Seattle, Wash., October 2.—Superior Judge John E. Humphries today sent twelve men and six women to the county jail for contempt of court in defying him in his decisions against socialists.

There were 55 socialists before Judge Humphries, because they had signed "resolutions of defiance" that denounced the judge for his injunctions in street speaking cases.

Disregarded Superior Court.

The judge proceeded with the contempt cases today in spite of the fact that the state supreme court had issued a writ restraining him in the case of two defendants who had appealed.

Later a consulation of other judges of the superior court was held and Thorwald Sigfried, an atorney who previously had complained to the bar association of Judge Humphries excessive use of the writ of injunction, was requested to apply for a writ of habeas corpus for the prisoners.

Siegfried applied to Judge Everett Smith for the release of Glenn Hoover, attorney, for the Free Speech Defense league and Former Assistant Attorney General of Washington, and G. M. Hodgson, one of the signers of "resolutions of protest" against Judge Humphries anti-street speaking injunctions and they are already released on their own recognizance.

"Forever Disbarred."

Each had a short time before been sentenced to pay a $100 fine for contempt while in addition Hoover had "forever been disbarred" by Judge Humphries and Hodgson was sent to jail for six months.

Judge Smith said he would release all the prisoners who sought freedom on writs.

Judge Humphries was very angry when he heard of the consultation of his fellow judges and the release of the prisoners. He denounced the other judges and declared that the right of habeas corpus did not apply in contempt cases.

The scene in Judge Humphries' court late today was remarkable. The court room was jammed to suffocation and the crowd interrupted and applauded frequently. Most of the prisoners when arraigned expressed anew contempt for the judge and defied him. Glenn Hoover, attorney for the prisoner, was fined, disbarred and ordered removed to jail as soon as he began to speak.

Attorney Hullet M. Wells, socialist candidate for mayor at the last election, was disbarred and fined without being permitted to speak.

Stood by Scotch Clan.

Mrs. Humphries, secretary of a socialist local, was dismissed with a small fine, the judge saying he did not wish to humiliate a member of his own Scotch clan.

Mrs. William McNally stood up with a baby in her arms. The judge said he did not wish to send a baby to jail.

"ever mind," the woman said bitterly, "the baby is as guilty as I am."

She was fined $100 and sent to jail with the baby and a little boy. The woman's husband, a Spanish war veteran, also was fined $100 and sent to jail. Six women and two children are in the county jail tonight.

Judge Humphries expects to take up the remainder of the cases tomorrow.

THREAT TO IMPEACH UNITED STATES JUDGE

Des Moines, Ia., October 2.—A threat of impeachment proceedings against Smith McPherson, of Red Oak, Iowa, United States district judge, was made public today by the judge through Federal Commissioner McArthur.

The threat came from Hugh J. O'Brien, an attorney of Rochester, N. Y., who demanded the re-opening of the bankrupt case of the Sydney company of Ottumwa, Iowa.

In his reply to the New York attorney Judge McPherson said:

"I note the recital in your letter that if I fail or refuse to make and enforce an order on Mr. Loomis, once the receiver of my court, to pay the New York state receivers $572.58 that you will present the matter to the judiciary committee of the house of representatives asking for my impeachment and removal. That statement is not pursuasive to me."

SLASHING MAN'S NECK HIGHWAYMEN ROB HIM

Negro Man and Woman at Midnight Get Watch and $20 From Greek.

Passing in the shadow of a large oak on Ivy street at the corner of Houston, George Themelis, a Greek, quickened his pace this morning shortly after midnight as he saw two forms dart behind the tree.

As he reached the oak, there came a command to throw up his hands. Themelis started to run. He felt a slash across the back of his neck. Wheeling around, he faced a negro man and woman. The woman began running her hands through his pockets, while the man menaced him with a keen-bladed knife.

Themelis was robbed of $20 and a gold watch. The man and woman fled down Houston street, disappearing in the darkness. A pedestrian, who had witnessed the holdup from across the street, but who was too frightened to go to the Greek's aid, summoned the police.

A private physician attended to the victim's wounds, and he resumed his way home without having to go to the hospital.

CENTRALIZED SCHOOL WANTED FOR COUNTRY

Washington, October 2.—The old-fashioned one-room school house of the country crossroads, within whose walls many of the country's most illustrious men received the rudiments of their education, would be entirely a thing of the past, if the United States bureau of education had its way. Its place would be taken by the consolidated, or centralized school, as recommended in a bulletin just issued by the bureau.

Wherever this change can be made without too great expense and without breaking up or disintegrating existing communities, it should be done, says the bureau. There is constant improvement in the facilities offered by the one-room rural school, particularly in relating school work to the farm needs, it is reported, but fewer and better schools with transportation furnished to pupils living at a distance is the recommendation.

FORT JOHN T. MORGAN TO GUARD THE CANAL

Washington, October 2.—In recognition of the long fight in congress by the late Senator Morgan, of Alabama, for the construction of an isthmian canal, a movement is on foot to have one of the principal forts at the Panama canal named "Fort John T. Morgan." Senator Bankhead, who is taking an active part in the movement, declared today that it not only was fitting that Senator Morgan's memory should be so honored because of his brilliant efforts in advancing the isthmian canal idea, but on account of his many other achievements while in congress. Secretary Garrison already has been asked to have one of the forts named for Senator Morgan. The Woman's Auxiliary of the Southern Commercial congress, of which Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is honorary president-general, is assisting in the movement.
